John Lothrop Motley. 1906 Oliver Wendell Holmes,1892 Ralph Waldo Emerson, John Lothrop Motley Two Memoirs (Classic Reprint) Oliver Wendell Holmes,2015-07-09 Excerpt from Ralph Waldo Emerson John Lothrop Motley Two Memoirs I have the feeling that every man s biography is at his own expense He furnishes not only the facts but the report I mean that all biography is autobiography It is only what he tells of himself that comes to be known and believed So writes the man whose life we are to pass in review and it is certainly as true of him as of any author we could name He delineates himself so perfectly in his various writings that the careful reader sees his nature just as it was in all its essentials and has little more to learn than those human accidents which individualize him in space and time About all these accidents we have a natural and pardonable curiosity We wish to know of what race he came what were the conditions into which he was born what educational and social influences helped to mould his character and what new elements Nature added to make him Ralph Waldo Emerson He himself believes in the hereditary transmission of certain characteristics Though Nature appears Capricious he says Some qualities she carefully fixes and transmits but some and those the finer she exhales with the breath of the individual as too costly to perpetuate About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works Ralph Waldo Emerson, John Lothrop Motley Oliver Wendell Holmes,1878 The Complete Writings of Oliver Wendell Holmes: Ralph Waldo Emerson, John Lothrop Motley; two memoirs Oliver Wendell Holmes,1906
