Ralph Gibsonwomen:

Ralph Gibson, Women Ralph Gibson, 1993 Ralph Gibson ,1993 Contested identities Carmen M.

Mangion, 2019-01-04 English Roman Catholic women's congregations are an enigma of nineteenth century social history. Over ten thousand nuns and sisters establishing and managing significant Catholic educational, health care and social welfare institutions in England and Wales have virtually disappeared from history. Despite their exclusion from historical texts, these women featured prominently in the public and private sphere. Intertwining the complexities of class with the notion of ethnicity, Contested identities examines the relationship between English and Irish born sisters. This study is relevant not only to understanding women, religious and Catholicism in nineteenth century England and Wales, but also to our understanding of the role of women in the public and private sphere dealing with issues still resonant today. Contributing to the larger story of the agency of nineteenth century women and the broader transformation of English society, this book will appeal to scholars and students of social, cultural, gender and religious history.

Gibson - Nude Eric Fischl, Ralph Gibson, 2009. Limited to 1 000 copies, each numbered and signed by the photographer. A decade after his first TASCHEN book Deux ex Machina, Ralph Gibson is back with an extensive collection of nudes, including his best recent work as well as an interview by Eric Fischl. Strikingly contrasted and meticulously composed, Gibson's photographs pay tribute to some of the medium's greatest practitioners such as Man Ray and Edward Weston while venturing into uncharted waters. Says Gibson, 'A photographer once said that beauty in women is endless. Perhaps it was I who said it. In fact, I remember distinctly having done so, and the thought persists to this day. We stare in the psychological mirror of the human body with a fascination that endures indefinitely. At least art history indicated this to be so. The Willendorf Venus is said to date from 25 000 BC, that is old enough for me to believe in the subject. I love photographing women and could say that the form of the female body is absolute and perfect.'

Women's History: Britain, 1850-1945 June Purvis, 2008 No Distinction Of Sex? Carol Dyhouse, 2016-09-17. In 1939

women represented nearly one quarter of the student population in British universities. Though tantamount to a social revolution in the eyes of many contemporaries, the process has received scant attention from historians. Whilst prejudice and hostility towards women lingered on in Oxford and Cambridge, it has often been assumed that the female presence was welcomed elsewhere. The younger civic universities commonly advertised themselves as making no distinction of sex in admissions, appointments or in educational policy. This work of social history, based on extensive archival research, examines the truth of these claims and explores the experiences of women teachers and students in this period.

The Making of Modern Woman Lynn Abrams, 2016-04-08. Modern woman was made between the French Revolution and the end of the First World War. In this time, the women of Europe crafted new ideas about their sexuality, motherhood, the home, the politics of femininity and their working roles. They faced challenges about what a woman should be and how she should act. From domestic ideology to women's suffrage, this book charts the contests for woman's identity in the epoch-shaping nineteenth century Body and Tradition in Nineteenth-Century France William G. Pooley, 2019-12-05 The moorlands of Gascony are often considered one of the most dramatic examples of top down rural modernization in nineteenth century Europe From an area of open moors they were transformed in one generation into the largest man made forest in Europe Body and Tradition in Nineteenth Century France explores how these changes were experienced and negotiated by the people who lived there drawing on the immense ethnographic archive of Félix Arnaudin 1844 1921 The study places the songs stories and everyday speech that Arnaudin collected as well as the photographs he took in the everyday lives of agricultural workers and artisans It argues that the changes were understood as a gradual revolution in bodily experiences as men and women forged new working habits new sexual relations and new ways of conceiving of their own bodies Rather than merely presenting a story of top down reform this is an account of the flexibility and creativity of the cultural traditions of the working population William G Pooley tells the story of the folklorist Arnaudin and the men and women whose cultural traditions he recorded then uncovers the work carried out by Arnaudin to explore everyday speech about the body stories of werewolves and shapeshifters tales of animal cunning and exploitation and songs about love and courtship The volume focuses on the lives of a handful of the most talented storytellers and singers Arnaudin encountered showing how their cultural choices reflect wider patterns of behaviour in the region and across rural Europe

Policing Gender, Class And Family In Britain, 1800-1945 Linda Mahood, 2005-08-12 This book is intended for undergraduate courses on modern British history women's history courses on family sexuality and childhood Women's studies history of education sociology Queer Omissions Karen M. Pack, 2025-04-30 Protestant Christian historiography has persistently erased unmarried childless women from the story of faith in Australia When women are mentioned they are judged according to a heteronormative maternalist framework built upon the ideology of separate spheres This paradigm creates a lopsided picture whereby women are celebrated for their social and moral influence but are absent from rational intellectual discourse This book asks the question why have unmarried women who devoted themselves to social justice activism motivated by their Christian faith been erased from the pages of Australian religious histories It does this through biographies of two unmarried women each engaged in very different work aimed at creating a more just and equitable Australia Queer Omissions uses biographical case studies of two unmarried childless women Frances Levvy 1831 1924 and Constance Duncan 1896 1970 to critique the writing of Protestant religious histories in Australia asking why those outside a heteronormative framework have been relegated to the margins Motivated by their faith Duncan and Levvy engaged in social justice activism that left an indelible mark on Australian society Yet they remain absent from the histories of their own faith communities Queer Omissions seeks to tell a bigger story of women who chafed against their contracted sphere yet motivated by their faith impacted their world for good In doing so it uniquely expands the categories of those who see themselves in the story finding hope in the process This book will be of great interest to scholars of religion gender and sexuality as well as people of faith trying to understand and reclaim their
