Ramses Vol 1 The Son Of Light:

Ramses Vol. 1 The Son of Light Christian Jacq, Son of the Light Christian JACQ,1997 The Flaming Sword Christian Jacq,2005-11-01 In the north the barbaric Hyksos still rule with unimaginable brutality Queen Ahhotep meanwhile has recaptured much of the south but at a terrible price her husband has been killed in combat and her elder son Kames was mysteriously poisoned Ahhotep refuses to be crowned pharaoh and prepares her second son young Amose to take power instead Thanks to her the Egyptians are now ready for the final battle They lay siege to Avaris the Hyksos capital and once the city is taken nothing can stop them After 100 years of occupation and thousands of violent deaths it looks as though the Egyptian empire may at last rise from the ashes The Tutankamun Affair Christian Jacq,2003 At the beginning of the 20th century a young unknown pharaoh remained beneath his golden mask in the darkness of a tomb deep in the Valley of the Kings His name was Tutankhamun He had lain undisturbed for a thousand years until two men Howard Carter and Lord Carnarvon discovered the tomb and wrested him from obscurity in an attempt to solve his riddle Christian Jacq tells the incredible true story of the strange curse of Tutankhamen which was to cause havoc among its unfortunate victims for the next half century The Wise Woman Christian Jacq,2000-09 Since the death of Ramses the Great the villagers of the Place of Truth have been under great pressure to produce their best work to honour Egypt's greatest pharaoh Follows Nefer the Silent For the Love of Philae Christian Jacq,2003 It's the 6th century AD and Christianity has been imposed throughout Egypt On the holy island of Philae off the southern coast the last community faithful to the old ways struggles against the invader and continues in active worship in its temple The Mummy! A Tale of the Twenty-Second Century Jane Webb,2022-04-05 Frankenstein wasn't the only classic horror novel created by a woman Within a decade of the 1818 publication of Mary Shelley's Frankenstein another Englishwoman invented a foundational work of science fiction Seventeen year old Jane Webb Loudon took up the theme of reanimation moved it three hundred years into the future and applied it to Cheops an ancient Egyptian mummy Unlike Shelley's horrifying death dealing monster this revived creature bears the wisdom of the ages and is eager to share his insights with humanity Cheops boards a hot air balloon and travels to 22nd century England where he sets about remedying the ills of a corrupt government In recounting Cheops attempts to put the futuristic society to rights the young author offers a fascinating portrait of the preoccupations of her own era as well as some remarkably prescient predictions of technological advances The Mummy envisions a world in which automatons perform surgery undersea tunnels connect England and Ireland weather control devices provide crop irrigation and messages are transmitted with the speed of cannonball fire The first novel to feature the concept of a living mummy this pioneering tale offers an engaging mix of comedy politics and science fiction Other books in the Haunted Library of Horror Classics series The Phantom of the Opera by Gaston Leroux The Beetle by Richard Marsh Vathek by William Beckford The House on the Borderland by William Hope Hodgson The Parasite and Other Tales of Terror by Arthur Conan Doyle Of One Blood by Pauline

The Historians' History of the World Vol.1 (of 25)

(Illustrations) Henry Smith Williams, A complete world history should properly speaking begin with the creation of the world as man's habitat and should trace every step of human progress from the time when man first appeared on the globe. Unfortunately the knowledge of to day does not permit us to follow this theoretical obligation. We now know that the gaps in the history of human evolution as accessible to us to day vastly exceed the recorded chapters that in short the period with which history proper has at present to content itself is a mere moment in comparison with the vast reaches of time which in recognition of our ignorance we term prehistoric. But this recognition of limitations of our knowledge is a quite recent growth no older indeed than a half century. Prior to 1859 the people of Christendom rested secure in the supposition that the chronology of man's history was fully known from the very year of his creation. One has but to turn to the first chapter of Genesis to find in the margin the date 4004 B C recorded with all confidence as the year of man's first appearance on the globe. One finds there too a brief but comprehensive account of the manner of his appearance as well as of the creation of the earth itself his abiding place. Until about half a century ago as has just been said the peoples of our portion of the globe rested secure in the supposition that this record and this date were a part of our definite knowledge of man's history. Therefore one finds the writers of general histories of the earlier days of the nineteenth century beginning their accounts with the creation of man B C 4004 and coming on down to date with a full and seemingly secure chronology. Our knowledge of the world and of man's history has come on by leaps and bounds since then with the curious result that to day no one thinks of making any reference to the exact date of the beginnings of human history unless indeed it be to remark that it probably reaches back some hundreds of thousands of years. The historian can speak of dates anterior to 4004 B C to be sure. The Egyptologist is disposed to date the building of the Pyramids a full thousand years earlier than that. And the Assyriologist is learning to speak of the state of civilisation in Chaldea some 6000 or 7000 years B C with a certain measure of confidence. But he no longer thinks of these dates as standing anywhere near the beginning of history. He knows that man in that age in the centres of progress had attained a high stage of civilisation and he feels sure that there were some thousands of centuries of earlier time during which man was slowly climbing through savagery and barbarism of which we have only the most fragmentary record. He does not pretend to know anything except by inference of the dawns of civilisation. Whichever way he turns in the centres of progress such as China Egypt Chaldea India he finds the earliest accessible records covering at best a period of only eight or ten thousand years giving evidence of a civilisation already far advanced. Of the exact origin of any one of the civilisations with which he deals he knows absolutely nothing. The Creation of Man with its fixed chronology is a chapter that has vanished from our modern histories. To be continue in this ebook Books Out Loud ,2007 A Manual of the Ancient History of the East, Volume 1 Francois Lenormant,2024-09-18 Recent antiquarian research in the hands of a greatly expanded scholarship has completely revolutionized ancient Oriental history. The last 150 years have been prolific of discoveries going to enlarge our knowledge of the pre Hellenic world First came the original memoirs of the discoverers and decipherers then great works combining their fruits into connected history and rehandling the old narratives in their light and now we are having all that condensed and separated from critical apparatus and presented in forms for popular reading and instruction Among works of the latter class this of Lenormant is positively one of the best we have yet seen Its clear and brief narrative contains the latest results of the most advanced Orientalists in their respective fields and the whole is woven together by a scholar whose own life has been devoted successfully to the same round of subjects This is volume one out of two covering the histories of the Israelites Egyptians Assyrians and Babylonians
