Rapid Marine Biodiversity Assessment Of The Calamianes Islands Palawan Province Philippines:

A Rapid Marine Biodiversity Assessment of the Calamianes Islands, Palawan Province, Philippines, 2000 Atlas of Philippine Coral Reefs, 2002 A Rapid Marine Biodiversity Assessment of the Coral Reefs of Northwest Madagascar Sheila Anne McKenna, Gerald R. Allen, 2005 This volume 31 in the series reports the results of a marine survey in 2002 off the northwestern coast of Madagascar This marine area is one that many conservationists think has the greatest potential in all of Madagascar for the development of both ecotourism and marine protected areas The survey documented a rich variety of coral mollusk and fish species and the report makes further recommendations for conservation in the region Mesophotic Coral Ecosystems Yossi Loya, Kimberly A. Puglise, Tom C.L. Bridge, 2019-05-22 This book summarizes what is known about mesophotic coral ecosystems MCEs geographically and by major taxa MCEs are characterized by light dependent corals and associated communities typically found at depths ranging from 30 40 m and extending to over 150 m in tropical and subtropical ecosystems They are populated with organisms typically associated with shallow coral reefs such as macroalgae corals sponges and fishes as well as specialist species unique to mesophotic depths During the past decade there has been an increasing scientific and management interest in MCEs expressed by the exponential increase in the number of publications studying this unique environment Despite their close proximity to well studied shallow reefs and the growing evidence of their importance our scientific knowledge of MCEs is still in its early stages The topics covered in the book include regional variation in MCEs similarities and differences between mesophotic and shallow reef taxa biotic and abiotic conditions biodiversity ecology geomorphology and geology potential connectivity between MCEs and shallow reefs MCE disturbances conservation and management challenges and new technologies key research questions knowledge gaps priorities and future directions in MCE research Sacred Natural Sites Bas Verschuuren, Robert Wild, Jeffrey Mcneely, Gonzalo Oviedo, 2012-06-25 Sacred Natural Sites are the world's oldest protected places This book focuses on a wide spread of both iconic and lesser known examples such as sacred groves of the Western Ghats India Sagarmatha Chomolangma Mt Everest Nepal Tibet and China the Golden Mountains of Altai Russia Holy Island of Lindisfarne UK and the sacred lakes of the Niger Delta Nigeria The book illustrates that sacred natural sites although often under threat exist within and outside formally recognised protected areas heritage sites Sacred natural sites may well be some of the last strongholds for building resilient networks of connected landscapes They also form important nodes for maintaining a dynamic socio cultural fabric in the face of global change The diverse authors bridge the gap between approaches to the conservation of cultural and biological diversity by taking into account cultural and spiritual values together with the socio economic interests of the custodian communities and other relevant stakeholders Biogeography, Time and Place: Distributions, Barriers and Islands Willem Renema, 2007-09-07 Biogeography considers the distribution of biological units over a wide range of scales The units range from genotypes populations and species to families and higher taxa Processes can be local such as the isolation on islands

due to sea level fluctuations or large scale tectonic processes that separates continents and creates oceans In all processes time is an important factor and by combining data on recent patterns with paleontological data the understanding of the distribution of extant taxa can be improved This volume focuses on speciation due to isolation in island like settings and the evolution of large scale diversity as the result of origination maintenance and extinction Ecology of Indonesian Papua explicitly cultural perspective on environmental politics in the Philippines by analysing the responses of fishers to marine resource regulations In the resource frontier of the Calamianes Islands fishing conservation and tourism provide the context where competing visions of how to engage with marine resources are played out The book draws on data from ethnographic fieldwork with fishers government and NGO officials fish traders and tourism operators to show how the strategic responses of fishers to management initiatives are couched within particular cultural idioms Tapping into broader notions of morality in the Philippines fishers express a discourse that emphasises their poverty and the obligations of the wealthy to treat them with fairness By deploying this discourse fishers are able to reframe what are on the surface questions of environmental management into issues about poverty within particular social relationships By using a cultural political ecology framework to analyse fishers responses to regulation the book emphasises the distinctive ways in which marginalised people in the Philippines resist and reframe resource management initiatives FISHING FOR FAIRNESS will appeal to both academics and policy makers interested in marine resource management political ecology anthropology and development studies particularly throughout the Asia Pacific
