Umbach, 2002 Urban Development Futures in the San Joaquin Valley Michael B. Teitz, Charles Dietzel, William B. Fulton, 2005 The Heart of California Aaron Gilbreath, 2020-11 2022 Oregon Book Award Finalist A vivid journey through California's vast rural interior The Heart of California weaves the story of historian Frank Latta's forgotten 1938 boat trip from Bakersfield to San Francisco with Aaron Gilbreath's trip retracing Latta's route by car during the 2014 drought Latta embarked on his journey to publicize the need for dams and levees to improve flood control Gilbreath made his own trip to profile Latta and the productive agricultural world that damming has created in the San Joaquin Valley to describe the region's nearly lost indigenous culture and ecosystems and to bring this complex yet largely ignored landscape to life The Valley is home to some of California's fastest growing cities and by some estimates produces 25 percent of America's food The Valley feeds too many people and is too unique to be ignored To understand California you have to understand the Valley Mixing travel writing historical recreations western history natural history and first person reportage The Heart of California is a road trip narrative about this fascinating region and its most important early documentarian The San Joaquin Valley of the State of California, 2018-09-23 Excerpt from The San Joaquin Valley of the State of California A Brief Description of the Topography Climatic Conditions Industrial Development and Resources of the Region Illustrated by Photographs of Typical Scenes and Containing Maps HE geography of the San Joaquin Valley is simple and may be quickly learned It is an oval shaped piece of territory about twice and a half times as long as it is broad and it extends in a northwest and southeast direction through the center of the State Measured from north to south it is almost exactly in the center of California that is the distance from the southern boundary of the valley to Lower California just equals the distance from the northern boundary of the valley to the Oregon line but as the San Joaquin river lies somewhat nearer to the ocean than to the Nevada boundary the valley is not exactly in the center of the State on an east and west measuring The northern end of the valley which is the lower end if we reckon by drainage consists of seven counties lying side by side along a division line that marks the center of the whole district These are San Joaquin Stanislaus and Merced to the west and Amador Calaveras Tuolumne and Mariposa to the east Next on the south comes the huge county of Fresno which runs clear across the valley from the Coast Range to the Sierras out of which a piece has been cut on the northeast to make the county of Madera Below Fresno lie

the two counties of Kings and Tulare side by side The great county of Kern extends clear across the southern end of the valley About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
