Oxford univ. branch,1902 The Philosopher Justin Smith-Ruiu,2016-05-03 How the role of the philosopher has changed over time and across cultures and what it reveals about philosophy today What would the global history of philosophy look like if it were told not as a story of ideas but as a series of job descriptions ones that might have been used to fill the position of philosopher at different times and places over the past 2 500 years The Philosopher does just that providing a new way of looking at the history of philosophy by bringing to life six kinds of figures who have occupied the role of philosopher in a wide range of societies around the world over the millennia the Natural Philosopher the Sage the Gadfly the Ascetic the Mandarin and the Courtier The result is at once an unconventional introduction to the global history of philosophy and an original exploration of what philosophy has been and perhaps could be again By uncovering forgotten or neglected philosophical job descriptions the book reveals that philosophy is a universal activity much broader and more gender inclusive than we normally think today In doing so The Philosopher challenges us to reconsider our idea of what philosophers can do and what counts as philosophy Contemporary Themes in Humanities Higher Education E.A. Chambers,2013-03-14 This book is about the teaching and study of the humanities in our universities It addresses humanities educators whose job it is to teach undergraduate students researchers into the processes of teaching and learning involved and higher education policy makers The book aims to stimulate discussion among them of the proper purposes processes and outcomes of this form of education And in the process it aims to help define and develop the new field of Arts and Humanities Higher Education AHHE In the humanities as in other academic domains of higher education a public discourse of teaching and of students learning is presently underdeveloped This may seem surprising given the long history of the university as an institution and the huge resources devoted to higher education in many countries but there are of course reasons for it First until very recently there has been no profession of teacher education focused on the academy Simply academics have needed neither training nor qualification as teachers of their subject so that no one has been required to make teacher education their business or teaching learning in 2 higher education their special field of interest As regards schooling the The label Arts and Humanities Higher Education reflects the fact that the humanities subjects Classics Cultural Studies History Art History European Studies Languages Literature Philosophy Religious Studies etc are usually taught in the Faculty of Arts in UK universities The book does not include discussion of the fine or performing arts except incidentally The Routledge Companion to Fashion Studies Eugenia Paulicelli,Veronica Manlow,Elizabeth Wissinger,2021-09-19 This collection of original essays interrogates disciplinary boundaries in fashion gathering fashion studies research across disciplines and from around the globe Fashion and clothing are part of material and visual culture cultural memory and heritage they contribute to shaping the way people see themselves interact and consume For each of the volume s eight parts scholars from across the world and a variety of disciplines offer analytical tools for further research Never neglecting the interconnectedness of disciplines and domains these original contributions survey specific topics and critically discuss the leading views in their areas They include discursive and reflective pieces as well as discussions of original empirical work and contributors include established leaders in the field rising stars and new voices including practitioner and industry voices This is a comprehensive overview of the field ideal not only for undergraduate and postgraduate fashion studies students but also for researchers and students in communication studies the humanities gender and critical race studies social sciences and fashion design and business
