Crossing the Water and Keeping the Faith

Terry Rey,Alex Stepick,2013-08-19 Beginning in the late 1970s and early 1980s significant numbers of Haitian immigrants began to arrive and settle in Miami Overcoming some of the most foreboding obstacles ever to face immigrants in America they have diversified socioeconomically Together they have made South Florida home to the largest population of native born Haitians and diasporic Haitians outside of the Caribbean and one of the most significant Caribbean immigrant communities in the world Religion has played a central role in making all of this happen Crossing the Water and Keeping the Faith is a historical and ethnographic study of Haitian religion in immigrant communities based on fieldwork in both Miami and Haiti as well as extensive archival research Where many studies of Haitian religion limit themselves to one faith Rey and Stepick explore Catholicism Protestantism and Vodou in conversation with one another suggesting that despite the differences between these practices the three faiths ultimately create a sense of unity fulfillment and self worth in Haitian communities This meticulously researched and vibrantly written book contributes to the growing body of literature on religion among new immigrants Terry Rey is Associate Professor of Religion at Temple University He is the coeditor with Alex Stepick and Sarah Mahler of Churches and Charity in the Immigrant City Religion Immigration and Civic Engagement in Miami Alex Stepick is Professor of Sociology at Portland State University and Professor of Global and Sociocultural Studies at Florida International University He is coauthor with Alejandro Portes of City on the Edge The Transformation of Miami In the North American Religions series

Narratives of Obeah in West Indian Literature

Janelle Rodriques,2019-04-05 This book explores representations of Obeah a name used in the English Creole speaking Caribbean to describe various African derived syncretic Caribbean religious practices across a range of prose fictions published in the twentieth century by West Indian authors In the Caribbean and its diasporas Obeah often manifests in the casting of spells the administration of baths and potions of various oils herbs roots and powders and sometimes spirit possession for the purposes of protection revenge health and well being In most Caribbean territories the practice and practices that may resemble it remains illegal Narratives of Obeah in West Indian Literature analyses fiction that employs Obeah as a marker of the Black folk aesthetics that are now constitutive of West Indian literary and cultural production either in resistance to colonial ideology or in service of the same These texts foreground Obeah as a social and cultural logic both integral to and troublesome within the creation of such a thing as West Indian literature and culture at once a product of and a foil to Caribbean plantation societies This book explores the presentation of Obeah as an unruly narrative subject one that not only subverts but signifies a lasting Afro folk sensibility within colonial and postcolonial writing of the West Indies Narratives of Obeah in West Indian Literature will be of interest to scholars and students of Caribbean Literature Diaspora Studies and African and Caribbean religious studies it will also contribute to dialogues of spirituality in the wider Black Atlantic Haitian History Alyssa Goldstein Sepinwall,2013 Despite Haiti s proximity to the United States and its considerable importance to our own history Haiti barely registered in the historic consciousness of most Americans until recently Those who struggled to understand Haiti s suffering in the earthquake of 2010 often spoke of it as the poorest country in the Western hemisphere but could not explain how it came to be so In recent years the amount of scholarship about the island has increased dramatically Whereas once this scholarship was focused on Haiti s political or military leaders now the historiography of Haiti features lively debates and different schools of thought Even as this body of knowledge has developed it has been hard for students to grasp its various strands Haitian History presents the best of the recent articles on Haitian history by both Haitian and foreign scholars moving from colonial Saint Domingue to the aftermath of the 2010 earthquake It will be the go to one volume introduction to the field of Haitian history helping to explain how the promise of the Haitian Revolution dissipated and presenting the major debates and questions in the field today To Exist is to Resist Akwugo Emejulu,Francesca Sobande,2019-05-20 This book brings together activists artists and scholars of colour to show how Black feminism and Afrofeminism are being practiced in Europe today exploring their differing social positions in various countries and how they organise and mobilise to imagine a Black feminist Europe Deeply aware that they are constructed as Others living in a racialised and hierarchical continent the contributors explore gender class sexuality and legal status to show that they are both invisible presumed to be absent from and irrelevant to European societies and hyper visible assumed to be passive and sexualised angry and irrational Through imagining a future outside the neocolonial frames and practices of contemporary Europe this book explores a variety of critical spaces including motherhood and the home friendships and intimate relationships activism and community and literature dance and film Becoming Creole Melissa A. Johnson,2018-11-01 Becoming Creole explores how people become who they are through their relationships with the natural world and it shows how those relationships are also always embedded in processes of racialization that create blackness brownness and whiteness Taking the reader into the lived experience of Afro Caribbean people who call the watery lowlands of Belize home Melissa A Johnson traces Belizean Creole peoples relationships with the plants animals water and soils around them and analyzes how these relationships intersect with transnational racial assemblages She provides a sustained analysis of how processes of racialization are always present in the entanglements between people and the non human worlds in which they live Contested Community Miriam Herrera Jerez,Mario Castillo Santana,2017-02-13 In Contested Community the authors analyze the Chinese immigrant community in Cuba between the years 1900 1968 While popular literature of the era portrayed the diasporic group as a closed inassimilable ethnic enclave closer inspection instead reveals numerous economic political and ethnic divisions As with all organizations asymmetrical power relations permeated Havana s Barrio Chino and the larger Chinese Cuban community The authors of Contested Community use difficult to access materials from Cuba s national archive to offer a unique and insightful interpretation of a little understood immigrant group
