Nation Forged In Fire:

A Nation in Conflict Andrew Iarocci, Jeffrey Keshen, 2016-01-27 The First and Second World Wars were two of the most momentous events of the twentieth century In Canada they claimed 110 000 lives and altered both the country's domestic life and its international position A Nation in Conflict is a concise comparative overview of the Canadian national experience in the two world wars that transformed the nation and its people With each chapter military historians Jeffrey A Keshen and Andrew Iarocci address Canada's contribution to the war and its consequences Integrating the latest research in military social political and gender history they examine everything from the front lines to the home front Was conscription necessary Did the conflicts change the status of Canadian women Was Canada's commitment worth the cost Written both for classroom use and for the general reader A Nation in Conflict is an accessible introduction to the complexities of Canada's involvement in the twentieth century's most important conflicts

Warrior Nation Ian McKay, Jamie Swift, 2012 Explores the ominous campaign to change a nation's definition of itself

Canada's 1960s Bryan D. Palmer, 2009-01-01 Focusing on the major movements and personalities of the time as well as the lasting influence of the period Canada's 1960s examines the legacy of this rebellious decade's impact on contemporary notions of Canadian identity

Global Realignments and the Canadian Nation in the Third Millennium Karin Ika, 2010 With aggravating global realignments the dynamics and contradictions of a world risk society are looming ahead in the unfolding Third Millennium while globalization is gaining further steam To this bears witness a potpourri of often frightening geopolitical social cultural economic demographic ecological and other changes and challenges that gives substantial cause for concern about getting lost in a trans whatever sea of turmoil uncertainty and indeterminateness The resultant current backlash or rather renewed interest in the nation as a collective identity establishing category is an effort to gain some anchorage in ever more disintegrating times and proves especially those theoreticians wrong for whom the whole concept of the nation has worn off since long In 16 resourceful essays internationally distinguished Canadian and European experts from a variety of fields take a fresh look at these developments by focussing on one of the most fascinating multicultural and multifaceted nation state's in the world Canada in the Third Millennium The topics they discuss include among others Canada's difficult dissociation from Europe and the USA the reframing and reclaiming of the Canadian story the role of nations within the nation the efforts to transcend the nation pending geopolitical and geo ecological crises global issues and new wars Collectively the entries prove that Canada is a very progressive nation and opens up new perspectives for other collectives currently reassessing their national identities in a global environment Thus the book reaches well beyond the study of Canada and will be valuable to academics professionals teachers and students of various disciplines coping with the issue at stake as well as the general reader

Carnivalizing Reconciliation Hanna Teichler, 2021-10-15 Transitional justice and national inquiries may be the most established means for coming to terms with traumatic legacies but it is in the more subtle social and cultural processes of memory work that the pitfalls and promises of reconciliation are laid bare This book analyzes within the realms of literature and film recent Australian and Canadian attempts to reconcile with Indigenous populations in the wake of forced child removal As Hanna Teichler demonstrates their systematic emphasis on the subjectivity of the victim is problematic reproducing simplistic narratives and identities defined by victimization Such fictions of reconciliation venture beyond simplistic narratives and identities defined by victimization offering new opportunities for confronting painful histories Disaster Writing Mark D. Anderson, 2011-10-17 In the aftermath of disaster literary and other cultural representations of the event can play a role in the renegotiation of political power In Disaster Writing Mark D Anderson analyzes four natural disasters in Latin America that acquired national significance and symbolism through literary mediation the 1930 cyclone in the Dominican Republic volcanic eruptions in Central America the 1985 earthquake in Mexico City and recurring drought in northeastern Brazil Taking a comparative and interdisciplinary approach to the disaster narratives Anderson explores concepts such as the social construction of risk landscape as political and cultural geography vulnerability as the convergence of natural hazard and social marginalization and the cultural mediation of trauma and loss He shows how the political and historical contexts suggest a systematic link between natural disaster and cultural politics World History Robin Wagner &, 2018-08-25 The book World History has been designed to highlight the course of events in the modern world during nineteenth century The theme of this book is the relations of the great powers of different countries The topics like the First World War its impacts the Third French Republic reasons of Russian Revolution and aftermaths Washington Conference position of East Asia East Europe and West Asia during Second World War have been discussed briefly to ease the students and researchers for their studies The Great War in Post-Memory Literature and Film Martin Löschnigg, Marzena Sokolowska-Paryz, 2014-10-14 The twenty seven original contributions to this volume investigate the ways in which the First World War has been commemorated and represented internationally in prose fiction drama film docudrama and comics from the 1960s until the present The volume thus provides a comprehensive survey of the cultural memory of the war as reflected in various media across national cultures addressing the complex connections between the cultural post memory of the war and its mediation In four sections the essays investigate 1 the cultural legacy of the Great War including its mythology and iconography 2 the implications of different forms and media for representing the war 3 national memories foregrounding the differences in post memory representations and interpretations of the Great War and 4 representations of the Great War within larger temporal or spatial frameworks focusing specifically on the ideological dimensions of its remembrance in historical socio political gender oriented and post colonial contexts Saints, Sinners, and Soldiers Jeffrey A. Keshen, 2007-10-01 The first ever synthesis of both the patriotic and the problematic in wartime Canada Saints Sinners and Soldiers shows how moral and social changes and the fears they generated precipitated numerous and often contradictory legacies in law and society From labour conflicts to the black market to prostitution and beyond Keshen acknowledges the underbelly of Canada's Second

World War and demonstrates that the Good War was a complex tapestry of social forces not all of which were above reproach

Living with War Robert Teigrob, 2016-01-01 In Living with War Robert Teigrob examines how war is experienced and remembered on both sides of the 49th parallel
