Marx, Marxism and the Spiritual Anjan Chakrabarti, Anup Dhar, Serap A. Kayatekin, 2020-09-10 While Marxian theory has produced a sound and rigorous critique of capitalism has it faltered in its own practice of social transformation Has it faltered because of the Marxian insistence on the hyper secularization of political cultures The history of religions with the exception of some spiritual traditions has not been any less heartless and soulless This book sets up a much needed dialogue between a rethought Marxian praxis of the political and a rethought experience of spirituality Such rethinking within Marxism and spirituality and a resetting of their lost relationship is perhaps the only hope for a non violent future of both the Marxian reconstruction of the self and the social as also faith based life practices Building on past work in critical theory this book offers a new take on the relationship between a rethought Marxism and a rethought spirituality rethought in the life philosophy and works of Christian thinkers anti Christian thinkers Marxian thinkers those critical of Marxist Statecraft Dalit neo Buddhist thinkers thinkers drawing from Judaism as well as thinkers drawing critically from Christianity Contrary to popular belief this book does not see spirituality as a derivative of only religion This book also sees spirituality as what Marx designated the sigh of the oppressed against both social and religious orthodoxy In that sense spirituality is not just a displaced form of religion it is a displaced form of the political too This book therefore sets up the much needed dialogue between the Marxian political and the spiritual traditions The chapters in this book were originally published in Rethinking Marxism A Journal of Economics Culture and Society

Producer Cooperatives as a New Mode of Production Bruno Jossa, 2014-02-05

The notion that there is no alternative to capitalism emerged after the fall of the Berlin Wall and made rapid headway due to increasing economic globalisation More recently this belief that there is no viable alternative has held firm despite the financial crisis high unemployment levels and an ever increasing gap between rich and poor However since the appearance of Benjamin Ward s seminal 1958 article economic theorists have been developing a workable alternative a system of self managed firms The core argument outlined in this book is that a well organised system of producer cooperatives would give rise to a new mode of production and ultimately a genuinely socialist society This argument is developed through three key steps First following on from Jaroslav Vanek s definition it is argued that a Labour Managed Firm a firm which strictly segregates capital incomes from labour incomes would implement a new production mode because it would reverse the pre existing relation between capital and labour Second given that a system of these Labour Managed Firm cooperatives would reverse the capital labour relationship it is suggested that this would constitute a form of market socialism Third it is argued that compared to capitalism a system of producer cooperatives offers a wealth of advantages including the potential for efficiency gains the eradication of unemployment and the end of exploitation Ultimately this book concludes that self management could take the place of central planning in Marxist visions for the future
