stunningly illustrated monograph explores the evolution of Anguissola's art from her youth in Cremona through her service as a lady in waiting to the Spanish queen Elisabeth of Valois to her later years as a married woman in Sicily and Genoa. Alongside discussions of Anguissola and her work, author Cecilia Gamberini offers a tantalizing exploration of Renaissance court life, detailing how the circles of influence and power operated. This volume highlights the social, political, and cultural preconditions surrounding Anguissola's role in the court of King Philip II of Spain and her ascent to becoming an internationally acclaimed painter. Gamberini draws on archival documentation as well as her own original research to shine a new light on Anguissola's life, career, and work in this tribute to a truly groundbreaking artist.

The Making of Juana of Austria Noelia García Pérez, 2021-12-08 Edited by art historian Noelia García Pérez, this first-ever collection of essays on Juana of Austria, the younger daughter of Holy Roman Emperor Charles V and sister to Philip II of Spain, offers an interdisciplinary study of the Habsburg princess that addresses her political, religious, and artistic dimensions. The volume's contextual framework shows her sharing agency with other women of her dynastic family who governed in the sixteenth century and developed an outstanding reputation for promoting artists and works of art. The Making of Juana of Austria demonstrates how Juana's role as a leading patron of the arts offered her a means of creating her own image, which she then promulgated through the objects she collected and her crowning architectural endeavor, the Monastery Palace of the Descalzas Reales. Drawing on early modern literature, archival documents, and artworks, the essays in this volume delineate a new portrait of Juana of Austria. Contributors not only highlight her multiple facets—princess of Portugal, regent of Castile, and the only female Jesuit in history—but also show her as a discerning art patron and collector who pursued an active role of patronage through which she constructed her own art collection and used it to articulate a visual statement of her lineage, power, and religious convictions. Her role as an art promoter culminated with the foundation of the Descalzas Reales and the works of art she collected and displayed within its walls. The Making of Juana of Austria offers a new perspective on female rule and patronage, exploring the achievements of a crucial figure in the history of art, court, and gender in early modern Europe.

Women in the Lusophone World in the Middle Ages and the Early Modern Period Darlene Abreu-Ferreira, Ivana Elbl, 2007-11-20 The present collection echoes and contributes to a number of the issues defined by both the traditional and revisionist historiography. The intent of this special issue of the Portuguese Studies Review was to highlight some of the new research on late medieval and early modern Portuguese women, subjects typically situated outside of the academic mainstream and to complement the four major collections on the history of Portuguese women published since 1986, as well as the larger literature dealing with Spain. The essays are organized into six general themes: Female Characters in Late Medieval Chronicles; Women and Power in the Late Middle Ages; Habsburg Queens and Portugal Women and the Economy; Attitudes Toward Women; and Women and Religion. The volume presents essays by Amelia P. Hutchinson, Jos Valente, Jutta Sperling, Ivana Elbl, Susannah C. Humble, Ferreira Félix, Labrador Arroyo, Annemarie Jordan, Almudena Pérez de 1412-1804 Ilenia Colón Mendoza, Margaret Ann Zaho, 2018-06-11 Portraits have a long history in royal courts as a way of communicating the monarch's status, rulership and even piety. This anthology places such art works studied in the context of their commission, production and display. Artists use different representational strategies to convey important information about the sitter. These aspects combined with patronage, location and use of the work form a departure point from which to address portraits comprehensively. The intersection between artist, the portrayed and audience with the additional layer of formed identity allows the portrait to hold a special place as popular genre of Spanish art. The relationship between the use of the work and its context is key to understanding better the cultural and social norms of Spanish aristocracy and what they reveal about Spanish identity in general. Used to solidify governance, lineage and marriage, portraits legitimized the negotiation of status, power and social mobility.

Arte Del Poder Alvaro Soler del Campo, National Gallery of Art (Estados Unidos), Sociedad Estatal para la Acción Cultural Exterior (Spain), 2009 The Royal Armory in Madrid assembled at a time when the Spanish Crown was at the height of its international power is the oldest and one of the finest and largest armories in the world imbued with great historical, artistic and symbolic significance. Armor drawn from the unsurpassed holdings of the Spanish Royal Armory is shown in this exhibition alongside portraits of rulers dressed in the same armor painted by such masters as Peter Paul Rubens, Anthony van Dyck, Diego Velázquez and Alonso Sánchez Coello. Several large and magnificent tapestries from the royal collection also depict the armor in use. Together, some 75 works illustrate the use of luxurious armor in projecting an image of royal power in Imperial Spain. The exhibition includes several full suits of armor, helmets, shields and equestrian armor worn in battle but more often in Renaissance parades, pageants and jousting tournaments. The works of art on view date from the reigns of the Holy Roman Emperors Maximilian I of Austria 1508-1519 and Emperor Charles V 1519-1558 to those of his successors King Philip II 1556-1598, King Philip III 1598-1621 and King Philip IV 1621-1665. This is the first time that the armor has been exhibited together with the portraits in which it is depicted.

Portraiture, Gender, and Power in Sixteenth-Century Art Noelia García Pérez, 2024-03-05 This exciting and wide-ranging volume examines the construction and dissemination of the image of female power during the Renaissance. Chapters examine the creation, promotion and display of the image of women in power and how the artistic and cultural patronage they developed helped them craft a self-image that greatly contributed to strengthening their power, consolidating their political legitimacy and promoting their authority. Contributors cover diverse models of sixteenth-century female power from ruling queens, regents and governors to consorts of sovereigns and noblewomen outside the court. The women selected were key political figures and patrons of art in England, France, Castile, the Low Countries, the Holy Roman Empire and Italian city states. The volume engages with crucial and controversial debates regarding the nature and use of portraiture as well as the changing patterns of how portraits were displayed, building a picture of the principal iconographic solutions and representational strategies that artists used. The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history, gender studies, women's studies and Renaissance
