PATRICK NEWMAN*

American history is one of the unfortunate casualties of the progressives' takeover of high school education and subsequent decline in student standards. Over the past several decades, by emphasizing common core requirements and tailoring learning outcomes to the least motivated students at the expense of the higher achieving students, schools teach American history less and less. Decades ago, when schools taught American history, instructors taught key individuals and the causes and consequences of major historical events, such as why the Industrial Revolution occurred and what were its effects. Granted, their pedagogy usually contained a strong left-wing bias and criticized capitalism at every step, but at least the students walked away with some understanding of
