Multiple Antiquities - Multiple Modernities Gábor Klaniczay, Michael Werner, Otto Gécser, 2011-09 Antiquity as the term has been understood and used over the centuries by scholars political and religious figures and ordinary citizens is far from a single monolithic concept Rather than reflecting a stable shared understanding about the past and its meaning the idea of antiquity is instead varying and multiple taking on different meanings and deployed to different effects depending on the context in which it is being considered In this volume historians from a wide range of specialties offer a comparative assessment of the multiple perceptions of antiquity that have shaped modern European cultures and national identities deploying a new methodological approach histoire croisée which considers these questions in light of the development of cultural diversity across Europe

Manufacturing Middle Ages, 2013-08-22 Across the nineteenth century European history philology archaeology art and architecture turned from a common classical vocabulary and ideology to images of pasts and origins drawn primarily from the Middle Ages The result was a paradox as scholars and artists schooled in the same pan European vocabularies and methodologies nevertheless sought to discover through them unique and frequently oppositional national identities These essays edited by Patrick J Geary and Gábor Klaniczay focus on this all European phenomenon with a special focus on Scandinavia and East Central Europe bearing witness to the inextricable links between cultural and scientific engagement the search for national identity and political agendas in the long nineteenth century that made the search for archaic origins an entangled history Contributors include Walter Pohl Ian Wood Sverre Bagge Maciej Janowski Sir David Wilson Anders Andrén Ernő Marosi Carmen Popescu Ahmet Ersoy Michael Werner Joep Leerssen R Howard Bloch Pavla Rychterová Tommaso di Carpegna Falconieri Stefan Detchev Florin Curta and Peter Lang

Mass Migration in the World-system Terry-Ann Jones, Eric Mielants, 2015-11-17 Mass Migration in the World System brings to light the multiple experiences of migrants across different zones of the world economy By engaging wide ranging ideas and theoretical viewpoints of the migration process the labor market for immigrants and the rights of migrants this book provides an important and much needed interdisciplinary perspective on the issues of mass migration

The Communicative Construction of Reality Hubert Knoblauch, 2019-12-06 This volume advocates a shift from the social constructivism found in the work of Thomas Luckmann and Peter Berger to a communicative constructivism that acknowledges communication as an embodied form of action in its own right according to which social actors in engaging in communicative action construct a material social reality that guides delimits and enables actions A study of the importance of understanding the role of communication in an age in which digitization and mediatization have extended the reach of communication to a global level and brought about the emergence of the communication society The Communicative Construction of Reality shows how communication society does not merely replace modern society and its hierarchical institutions but complements it in a manner that continually results in conflicts
