National Socialism And Gypsies In Austria:

National Socialism and Gypsies in Austria Erika Thurner, 1998 Originally published in German this text is a study of Nazi policy towards gypsies during the Third Reich focusing on Camps Salzburg and Lackenbach The author's research included piecing together fragments from Nazi documents recollections of victims and formal records "Gypsy" Camps Salzburg and Lackenbach Erika Thurner, 1983 Originally published in German Erika Thurner's National Socialism and Gypsies in Austria is the ground breaking study of Nazi policy toward Gypsies during the Third Reich As noted in the foreword although Jews were the major target of the Nazis others were also marked for extermination Indeed of the groups targeted by the Nazis only Jews and Gypsies were killed indiscriminately and tribally that is by the gassing of entire family groups of men women and children Of the eleven thousand Gypsies living in Austria at the start of the war only three thousand survived Nazi persecution In the first English translation of this important work Gilya Gerda Schmidt makes available Thurner's investigation of Camps Salzburg and Lackenbach the two central areas of Gypsy persecution in Austria This English translation has also been expanded with a new study of Camp Salzburg an updated bibliography and numerous photographs which were not included in the German edition Nomadic Peoples and Human Rights Jérémie Gilbert, 2014-03-26 Although nomadic peoples are scattered worldwide and have highly heterogeneous lifestyles they face similar threats to their mobile livelihood and survival Commonly nomadic peoples are facing pressure from the predominant sedentary world over mobility land rights water resources access to natural resources and migration routes Adding to these traditional problems rapid growth in the extractive industry and the need for the exploitation of the natural resources are putting new strains on nomadic lifestyles This book provides an innovative rights based approach to the issue of nomadism looking at issues including discrimination persecution freedom of movement land rights cultural and political rights and effective management of natural resources Jeremie Gilbert analyses the extent to which human rights law is able to provide protection for nomadic peoples to perpetuate their own way of life and culture The book questions whether the current human rights regime is able to protect nomadic peoples and highlights the lacuna that currently exists in international human rights law in relation to nomadic peoples It goes on to propose avenues for the development of specific rights for nomadic peoples offering a new reading on freedom of movement land rights and development in the context of nomadism Terrortimes, Terrorscapes Volker Benkert, Michael Mayer, 2022-09-15 Terrortimes Terrorscapes Continuities of Space Time and Memory in Twentieth Century War and Genocide investigates interconnections between space and violence throughout the twentieth century and how such connections informed collective memory The interdisciplinary volume shows how entangled notions of time and space amplified by memory narratives led to continuities of violence across different conflicts creating terrortimes and terrorscapes in their wake The volume examines such continuities of violence with the help of an analytical framework built around different themes Its first part spatial and temporal continuities of violence looks at contested spaces and ideas of national ethnic or religious homogeneity that are often at the heart of prolonged conflicts The second part on states and actors addresses the role of states as enablers of violence asymmetric power dynamics and the connection between imperialism and genocide in Africa Imagination and emotion the focus of the third part explores utopian visions and their limits that instigate or hinder and the mobilization of emotion through propaganda Finally the fourth part shows how the recollection of the past sometimes triggers new terrortimes Departing from an understanding of violence limited to certain areas and time frames this volume describes continuities of violence as overlapping fabrics woven together from notions of space time and memory

Salzburg and the Jews Stan Nadel,2009-04-01 When I moved to Salzburg in 2002 I followed in the footsteps of thousands of others and fell in love with this quaint old city and its beautiful surroundings I am a historian by trade and I was enchanted with walking the city s streets and identifying where various historical events had taken place I am also Jewish so I read all I could about the history of Jews in Salzburg and began to fit what I learned into the geography of the streets and buildings that I so much enjoyed As I learned more about the city and its history I found it unsettling to see the shadows of a very ugly past in the city I have come to love I liked my first apartment but I was not happy that one of Adolf Eichmann s associates lived in an apartment downstairs after it had been taken away from an elderly Jewish man There are many such shadows in Salzburg but it remains a beautiful city with many attractions I certainly do not want to discourage anyone from coming to Salzburg to enjoy as I do its beauty culture food and wonderful beers To the contrary I would like to encourage others to come and share my pleasure But I also want to share what I have learned with visitors to Salzburg who might like to know about some aspects of its history that are often neglected by the standard tourist guidebooks From the Preface

The Memoirs of Ceija Stojka, Child Survivor of the Romani Holocaust Ceija Stojka,2022 First English translation of the memoirs of Austrian Romani Holocaust survivor writer visual artist musician and activist Ceija Stojka 1933 2013 along with poems an interview historical photos and reproductions of her artworks Is this the whole world This question begins the first of three memoirs by Austrian Romani writer visual artist musician and activist

Ceija Stojka 1933-2013 told from her perspective as a child interned in three Nazi concentration camps from age nine to twelve. Written by a child survivor much later in life, the memoirs offer insights into the nexus of narrative and extreme trauma, expressing the full spectrum of human emotions: fear and sorrow at losing loved ones, joy and relief when reconnecting with family and friends, desire to preserve some memories while attempting to erase others, horror at acts of genocide and hope arising from dreams of survival. In addition to annotated translations of the three memoirs, the book includes two of Stojka's poems and an interview by Karin Berger, editor of the original editions of Stojka's memoirs, as well as color reproductions of several of her artworks and historical photographs. An introduction contextualizes her works within Romani history and culture, and a glossary informs the reader about the concentrationary universe. Because the memoirs show how Stojka navigated male-dominated postwar Austrian culture, generally discriminatory to Roma, and the patriarchal aspects of Romani culture itself, the book is a contribution not only to Holocaust Studies but also to Austrian Studies, Romani Studies, and Women's and Gender Studies.

The Jews in Poland and Russia Antony Polonsky, 2012-02-09. A comprehensive socio-political, economic, and religious history, an important story whose relevance extends beyond the Jewish world or the bounds of east-central Europe.
