Nationalism Craig J. Calhoun, 1997 Nationalism is one of the most pressing of global problems Drawing on examples from around the world Craig Calhoun considers nationalism's diverse manifestations its history and its relationship to imperialism and colonialism He also challenges attempts to debunk nationalism that fail to grasp why it still has such power and centrality in modern life Ernest Gellner's Legacy and Social Theory Today Petr Skalník, 2022-10-28 This edited volume examines the critical issues of the 21st century through the prism of Ernest Gellner's work The contributors look critically at Gellner's legacy questioning whether he remains an inspiration for today's social theorists Chapters proactively probe Gellner's thoughts on a variety of pressing topics modernity postcolonialism nationalism and more without losing sight of current debates on these issues This volume further brings these debates to life by having each chapter followed by a comment by an academic peer of the chapter author thus transforming the text into a lively and dynamic conversation

Classical Sociology Beyond Methodological Nationalism, 2014-04-17 Classical Sociology Beyond Methodological Nationalism defends classical sociology from the accusation of methodological nationalism To reject such accusation the volume presents three arguments The first contends that classical sociology has not failed to deal with the global world Part I The second that classical sociology has more frequently dealt with the transnational category of the social rather than with the national Part II The third that where classical sociology has analysed national society the latter has never been envisaged as a rigidly confined entity within its political boundaries Part III The outcome is a re-evaluation of classical sociological thought as a more functional tool for analysing the political forms of modernity in the era of globalisation Contributors include Vittorio Cotesta David Inglis Austin Harrington Massimo Pendenza Michael Schillmeier Emanuela Susca Dario Verderame and Federico Trocini Crafting Turkish National Identity, 1919-1927 Aysel Morin, 2021-12-30 Examining Mustafa Kemal Atatürk's Byk Nutuk The Great Public Address this book identifies the five founding political myths of Turkey the First Duty the Internal Enemy the Encirclement the Ancestor and Modernity Offering a comprehensive rhetorical analysis of Nutuk in its entirety the book reveals how Atatürk crafted these myths traces their discursive roots back to the Orkhon Inscriptions epic tales and ancient stories of Turkish culture and critiques their long term effects on Turkish political culture In so doing it advances the argument that these myths have become permanent fixtures of Turkish political discourse since the establishment of Turkey and have been used by both supporters and detractors of Atatürk Providing examples of how past and present leaders including Recep Tayyip Erdoğan a vocal critic of Atatürk have deployed these myths in their discourses the book offers an entirely new way to read and understand Turkish political culture and contributes to the heated debate on Kemalism by responding to the need to go back to the original sources his own speeches and statements to understand him Contributing to emerging discourse based approaches this book is ideal for scholars and students of Turkish Studies History Nationalism Studies Political Science Rhetorical Studies and International Studies Government and Politics of the

Sandinista Narratives Jean-Pierre Reed, 2020-10-21 Sandinista Narratives is an analysis of the role of agency in the Nicaraguan Revolution and its aftermath. He also examines how Sandinista ideology contributed to state building in Nicaragua while tracing the role of post-revolutionary Sandinismo as a political identity. Polyrhythmicity Kofi Kissi Dompere, 2006-03-31 The modern works on African philosophy have not been integrated and fully connected to Africa's antiquity in order to provide a foundational unity for further intellectual refinement. The philosophical dimensions of humanism, Nkrumah's concept of categorical conversion, African concepts of duality, polarity, unity, continual creation, and democratic ideals must be shown their African-centered origins. In considering African philosophy, there arise conceptual and logical gaps that require the development of fundamental cognitive unity from the available data with judicious interpretation and restructuring in order to define the parameters of African philosophical unity that will allow these gaps to be closed for intellectual continuity. This monograph is devoted to the establishment of the foundations for the development of Africa's intellectual continuity and cognitive unity from antiquity to the present. Its main premise is that there is African philosophy with its own method of reasoning, analysis, and synthesis. The monograph initiates self-contained philosophical foundations for African intellectual unity that is required to support African cultural unity, African personality, African essence, and humanism needed for the creation of Greater Africa that is implied by African Union. These philosophical foundations, it is argued, formed the thinking system for Africa's social construct law economics politics and governance of empires kingdoms and social units that have come to pass These philosophical foundations constitute the thinking system that must guide current and future Africa's socioeconomic dynamics The monograph discusses also Africa's contributions to the global intellectual heritage by showing the relationships among foundations of African philosophical tradition and other philosophical systems that lead to redive Africa It presents the principles of cognitive unity and continuity on the held position that without clearly developed Africa's philosophical foundations from its antiquity providing intellectual unity and cognitive continuity complete emancipation of Africa will be a mere mimicking of intellectual faults of other nations and philosophical systems The research by African scholars and others on specific philosophical thoughts from different areas of Africa is useful materials that must be integrated into cognitive unity by accepting those that fit and rejecting those that do not fit by a defined logical process Mindful of this a case is thus made in this monograph for African cognitive unity and supporting reasoning methods The system of ideas and perceptive interpretations of relevant data is here referred to as Africentricity and its philosophical foundations that project thought as polyrhythmicity while the study of logic of reasoning about methodological and epistemic problems of polyrhythmicity and Africentricity is referred to as polyrhythmics On practical level these philosophical foundations are shown to support the conceptual basis of Nguzo Saba the Seven Principles of Kwanzaa The monograph would be of interest to philosophers in general professionals researchers and students engaged in African philosophy African studies Black studies socio political philosophy and those interested in knowing the thinking system on the basis of which African essence arises and African social formations were constructed and governed from antiquity

History and the Making of a Modern Hindu Self Aparna Devare, 2013-04-03 Taking the contentious debates surrounding historical evidence and history writing between secularists and Hindu nationalists as a starting point this book seeks to understand the origins of a growing historical consciousness in contemporary India especially amongst Hindus The broad question it poses is Why has history become such an important site of identity conflict and self definition amongst modern Hindus especially when Hinduism is known to have been notoriously impervious to history As modern ideas regarding notions of history came to India with colonialism it turns to the colonial period as the moment of encounter with such ideas The book examines three distinct moments in the Hindu self through the lives and writings of lower caste public figure Jotiba Phule moderate nationalist M G Ranade and Hindu nationalist V D Savarkar Through a close reading of original writings speeches and biographical material it is demonstrated that these three individuals were engaged with a modern historical and rationalist approach However the same material is also used to argue that Phule and Ranade viewed religion as living contemporaneous and capable of informing both their personal and political lives Savarkar the explicitly Hindu leader on the contrary held Hindu practices and traditions in contempt confining them to historical analysis while denying any role for religion as spirituality or morality in contemporary political life While providing some historical context this volume highlights the philosophical political ideas and actions of the three individuals discussed It integrates aspects of their lives as central to understanding their politics A Place to Call Home Ernesto Castañeda,2018-05-29 As immigrants settle in new places they are faced with endless uncertainties that prevent them from feeling that they belong From language barriers to differing social norms to legal boundaries separating them from established residents they are constantly navigating shifting and contradictory expectations both to assimilate to their new culture and to honor their native one In A Place to Call Home Ernesto Castañeda offers a uniquely comparative portrait of immigrant expectations and experiences Drawing on fourteen years of ethnographic observation and hundreds of interviews with documented and undocumented immigrants and their children Castañeda sets out to determine how different locations can aid or disrupt the process of immigrant integration Focusing on New York City Paris and Barcelona immigration hubs in their respective countries he compares the experiences of both Latino and North African migrants and finds that subjective understandings local contexts national and regional history and religious institutions are all factors that profoundly impact the personal journey to belonging The calling of social thought Christopher Adair-Totter,Stephen Turner,2019-01-09 Edward Shils was a central figure in twentieth century social thought He held appointments both at Chicago and Cambridge and was a crucial link between British and American intellectual life This volume collects essays by distinguished contributors which deal with the major facets of Shils thought including his relations with Michael Polanyi his parallels with Michael Oakeshott his defense of the traditional university his fundamental philosophical anthropology and his important work on such topics as tradition civility and the nation As an introduction to this complex and original thinker it will be of interest to scholars and students in a number of fields including sociology and social theory but also to anyone interested in the intellectual life as it was lived in the mid twentieth century in the face of the Cold War and ideological struggle
