Natural Discourse Toward Ecocomposition:

Natural Discourse Sidney I. Dobrin, Christian R. Weisser, 2002-02-19 Examines the relationships between language and nature

Natural Discourse Sidney I. Dobrin, Christian R. Weisser, 2012-02-01 The first full length book to address the relationships between environment and discourse Natural Discourse explains why and how ecocomposition has become such a critical part of composition studies Beginning by exploring the roots of ecocomposition including a history of the use of the term ecocomposition the book then examines ecological aspects of composition studies and looks at how ecocomposition is informed by ecocriticism cultural studies ecofeminism environmental rhetoric and composition studies The authors draw on their own experiences as teachers of writing and outdoor enthusiasts to describe how ecocomposition can address issues of language and nature public intellectualism and pedagogy

Postcomposition Sidney I Dobrin, 2011-06-02 Leading a burgeoning self critical moment in composition studies and writing program administration Postcomposition is a fundamental reconsideration of the field that attempts to shift the focus away from pedagogy and writing subjects and toward writing itself In this forceful and reasoned critique of many of the primary tenets and widely accepted institutional structures of composition studies Sidney I Dobrin delivers a series of shocks to the system meant to disrupt the pedagogical imperative and move beyond the existing limits of the discipline Dobrin evaluates the current state of composition studies underscoring the difference between composition and writing and arguing that the field's focus on the administration of writing students and its historically imposed prohibition on theory greatly limit what can be understood about writing Instead he envisions a more significant approach to writing one that questions the field's conservative allegiance to subject and administration and reconsiders writing as spatial and ecological Using concepts from ecocomposition spatial theory network theory complexity theory and systems theory Postcomposition lays the groundwork for a networked theory of writing and advocates the abandonment of administration as a useful part of the field He also challenges the usefulness of rhetoric in writing studies showing how writing exceeds rhetoric Postcomposition is a detailed consideration of how posthumanism affects the field's understanding of subjectivity It also tears at the seams of the contingent labor problem As he articulates his own frustrations with the conservatism of composition studies and builds on previous critiques of the discipline Dobrin stages a courageous and inevitably polemical intellectual challenge to the entrenched ideas and assumptions that have defined composition studies

Climate Consciousness and Environmental Activism in Composition Joseph R. Lease, 2020-02-18 Now more than ever in a time when Americans still do not believe that humans are the primary cause of Earth's climate change crisis the burden on educators to inform challenge and motivate students about sustainability is greater than it ever has been On college campuses writing intensive courses often located within First Year or General Education curricula are an ideal place to take up this charge because of the flexibility of their content and the high volume of students that they reach In this volume a varied group of composition instructors with wide ranges and types of experiences provides best practices for bringing issues surrounding climate change into the writing classroom From literature based composition and creative writing courses to design thinking workshops to seminars against sustainability the authors in this volume lay out a multitude of possibilities for blending writing and environmental concerns that fellow practitioners can easily adopt or modify for their own use

Blue Ecocriticism and the Oceanic Imperative Sidney I. Dobrin, 2021-03-28 This book initiates a conversation about blue ecocriticism critical ethical cultural and political positions that emerge from oceanic or aquatic frames of mind rather than traditional land based approaches Ecocriticism has rapidly become not only a disciplinary legitimate critical form but also one of the most dynamic active criticisms to emerge in recent times However even in its institutional success ecocriticism has exemplified an ocean deficit That is ecocriticism has thus far primarily been a land based criticism stranded on a liquid planet Blue Ecocriticism and the Oceanic Imperative contributes to efforts to overcome ecocriticism's ocean deficit The chapters explore a vast archive of oceanic literature visual art television and film games theory and criticism By examining the relationships between these representations of ocean and cultural imaginaries Blue Ecocriticism works to unmoor ecocriticism from its land based anchors This book aims to simultaneously advance blue ecocriticism as an intellectual pursuit within the environmental humanities and to advocate for ocean conservation as derivative of that pursuit

Writing Environments Sidney I. Dobrin, Christopher J. Keller, 2012-02-01 Writing Environments addresses the intersections between writing and nature through interviews with some of America's leading environmental writers Those interviewed include Rick Bass Cheryll Glotfelty Annette Kolodny Max Oelschlaeger Simon J Ortiz David Quammen Janisse Ray Scott Russell Sanders Edward O Wilson and Ann H Zwinger From the standpoints of activists scientists naturalists teachers and highly visible writers the interviewees consider how different environments have influenced them how their writing affects environments and the ways readers experience environments The interviews are followed by critical responses from writing scholars This diverse range of voices speaks lucidly and captivantly about topics such as place writing teaching politics race and culture and how these overlap in many complex ways

The Far Right and the Environment Bernhard Forchtner, 2019-09-10 At the beginning of the twenty first century both the crisis of liberal democracy as visible in for example the rise of far right actors in Europe and the United States and environmental crises from declining biodiversity to climate change are increasingly in the public spotlight Whilst both areas have been analysed extensively on their own The Far Right and the Environment Politics Discourse and Communication provides much needed insights into their intersection by illuminating the environmental communication of far right party and non party actors in Europe and the United States Although commonly perceived as a left wing issue today concerns over the natural environment by the far right have a long ideology driven history Thus it is not surprising that some members of the far right offer distinctive ecological visions of communal life though for example climate change scepticism is voiced too Investigating this range of stances within their discourse about the natural environment provides a window into the wider politics of the far right and points to a close connection between the politics of identity and the imagination of nature Connecting the fields of environmental communication and study of the far right contributions to this edited volume therefore offer timely assessments of this often overlooked dimension of far right politics Rhetorics, Literacies, and Narratives of Sustainability Peter N. Goggin, 2011-02-23 In this volume rhetoricians literacy scholars and humanists have come together to examine the complex discursive constructions of sustainability Touching on topics including conservation efforts in specific locales social and political constructions of rhetorical place and space community literacy historical and archival analysis of institutional politics policies and practices concerning the environment and economic growth and development town planning and zoning issues and rhetorics of environmental remediation and sustainability this collection of essays provides rhetoricians and environmentalists a window into the complex and often contradictory arena of discourse on sustainability Food Justice Activism and Pedagogies Eileen E. Schell, Pritisha Shrestha, Dianna Winslow, 2023-02-13 Food Justice Activism and Pedagogies Literacies and Rhetorics for Transforming Food Systems in Local and Transnational Contexts brings together national and transnational scholars from rhetoric composition writing studies and other interdisciplinary fields to address food as a topic of inquiry and a matter of social and environmental justice The contributors in this edited collection demonstrate that analyzing the literacies rhetorics and pedagogies needed to transform food systems is vital to creating sustainable food systems The contributors advocate that food learning be taught and engaged in at all levels of schooling and in society including college courses and community settings Scholars of rhetoric literacy studies interdisciplinary food studies and sociology will find this book of particular interest Managing Environmental Justice Dennis Pavlich, 2010 Environmental justice is the subtext of this collection of anxieties around the need for a sustainable future on Planet Earth Thinkers and scholars from a diversity of backgrounds reflect on what it means and how cultures must change to greet this future From Romania to Mexico Bosnia to Canada Sweden to California authors analyze and recount community experiences and expectations leading to justice for land sea air and wildlife The kind of ethical weltanschauung for a society in which this kind of justice is achievable is suggested The collection points to the myriad of single instance decisions that we must all make in living our daily lives whether in our homes workplaces or leisure time From good policies to sound management governments corporations and community based organizations will find prudent praxis from cover to cover
