Presstime in Paradise George Chaplin, 1998-02-01 Since it first rolled off the presses in 1856 The Honolulu Advertiser has been an important force in reporting and shaping the news of Honolulu and secondarily the Hawaiian Islands Established as The Pacific Commercial Advertiser a four page weekly it was the first enduring non government owned or subsidized newspaper published in the Hawaiian Kingdom Under its first owner the son of New England missionaries the Advertiser became the most successful commercial English language newspaper in the Islands The paper became a daily in 1882 and in 1921 changed its name to The Honolulu Advertiser Now owned by Gannett Company Inc the Advertiser is one of the oldest newspapers still operating west of the Rockies George Chaplin editor in chief of the Advertiser from 1959 to 1986 has written a colorful and entertaining insider s account of nearly a century and a half of Advertiser history He covers the legion of personalities that has worked for the Advertiser over the years owners from its first Island owner Henry Whitney to its last the Thurston Twigg Smith family publishers editors reporters political cartoonists photographers and pressroom people He reports on issues and historical events that had a powerful impact on the Honolulu community and comments on the newspaper s position regarding each the sensational Massie trial the dilemma of Hawaii s Americans of Japanese ancestry during World War II the labor movement and communism in the Islands and statehood among others He also recalls the many political figures who have waged their media battles within the pages of the Advertiser Presstime in Paradise is an illuminating and informative look at the internal operations of a newspaper and its relationship with a community that has both influenced it and been influenced by it It adds significantly to the growing body of literature on the role of the free press in Hawaii Political Science Research in Practice Akan Malici,Elizabeth S. Smith,2012-09-10 Nothing rings truer to those teaching political science research methods students hate taking this course Tackle the challenge and turn the standard research methods teaching model on its head with Political Science Research in Practice Akan Malici and Elizabeth Smith engage students first with pressing political questions and then demonstrate how a researcher has gone about answering them walking through real political science research that contributors have conducted Through the exemplary use of survey research experiments field research case studies content analysis interviews document analysis statistical research and formal modeling each chapter introduces students to a method of empirical inquiry through a specific topic that will spark their interest and curiosity Each chapter shows the process of developing a research question how and why a particular method was used and the rewards and challenges discovered along the way Students can better appreciate why we need a science of politics why methods matter with these first hand issue based discussions The following features make this an ideal teaching tool An introductory chapter that succinctly introduces key terms in research methodology Key terms bolded throughout and defined in a glossary Broad coverage of the most important methods used in political science research and the major subfields of the discipline A companion website designed to foster online active learning An instructor s manual and testbank to help incorporate this innovative text into your syllabus and assessment Selling the Great War Alan Axelrod,2009-03-03 The riveting story of George Creel and the Committee on Public Information the first and only propaganda initiative sanctioned by the U S government When the people of the United States were reluctant to enter World War I maverick journalist George Creel created a committee at President Woodrow Wilson s request to sway the tide of public opinion The Committee on Public Information monopolized every medium and avenue of communication with the goal of creating a nation of enthusiastic warriors for democracy Forging a path that would later be studied and retread by such characters as Adolf Hitler the Committee revolutionized the techniques of governmental persuasion changing the course of history Selling the War is the story of George Creel and the epoch making agency he built and led It will tell how he came to build it and how he ran it using the emerging industries of mass advertising and public relations to convince isolationist Americans to go to war It was a force whose effects were felt throughout the twentieth century and continue to be felt perhaps even more strongly today In this compelling and original account Alan Axelrod offers a fascinating portrait of America on the cusp of becoming a world power and how its first and most extensive propaganda machine attained unprecedented results As Axelrod demonstrates in fascinating detail the remarkable George Creel was responsible for this turnabout through his Committee on Public Information which eschewed censorship but so thoroughly controlled war information that its work was to be admired by the likes of Hitler and Goebbels Walton Rawls author of Wake Up America World War I and the American Poster Proposed Changes in the Communications Act of 1934: April 14 to June 3, 1942 United States. Congress. House. Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, 1942
