The Self Possessed Frederick M. Smith,2006 The Self Possessed is a multifaceted diachronic study reconsidering the very nature of religion in South Asia the culmination of years of intensive research Frederick M Smith proposes that positive oracular or ecstatic possession is the most common form of spiritual expression in India and that it has been linguistically distinguished from negative disease producing possession for thousands of years In South Asia possession has always been broader and more diverse than in the West where it has been almost entirely characterized as demonic At best spirit possession has been regarded as a medically treatable psychological ailment and at worst as a condition that requires exorcism or punishment In South and East Asia ecstatic or oracular possession has been widely practiced throughout history occupying a position of respect in early and recent Hinduism and in certain forms of Buddhism Smith analyzes Indic literature from all ages the earliest Vedic texts the Mahabharata Buddhist Jain Yogic Ayurvedic and Tantric texts Hindu devotional literature Sanskrit drama and narrative literature and more than a hundred ethnographies He identifies several forms of possession including festival initiatory oracular and devotional and demonstrates their multivocality within a wide range of sects and religious identities Possession is common among both men and women and is practiced by members of all social and caste strata Smith theorizes on notions of embodiment disembodiment selfhood personal identity and other key issues through the prism of possession redefining the relationship between Sanskritic and vernacular culture and between elite and popular religion Smith s study is also comparative introducing considerable material from Tibet classical China modern America and elsewhere Brilliant and persuasive The Self Possessed provides careful new translations of rare material and is the most comprehensive study in any language on this subject
