Preventing HIV in Developing Countries Laura Gibney, Ralph J. DiClemente, Sten H. Vermund, 2006-04-11 Globally action to prevent HIV spread is inadequate Over 16 000 new infections occur every day Yet we are not helpless in the face of disaster as shown by the rich prevention experience analyzed in this valuable new compendium Best practice exists a set of tried and tested ways of slowing the spread of HIV of persuading and enabling people to protect themselves and others from the virus Individually features of best practice can be found almost everywhere The tragedy on a world scale is that prevention is spotty not comprehensive the measures are not being applied on anywhere near the scale needed or with the right focus or synergy The national response may concentrate solely on sex workers for example Elsewhere efforts may go into school education for the young but ignore the risks and vulnerability of men who have sex with men Action may be patchy geographically AIDS prevention may not benefit from adequate commitment from all parts and sectors of society compromising the sustainability of the response In some countries matters are still worse there is still hardly any action at all against AIDS and scarcely any effort to make HIV visible It is no wonder that the epidemic is still emerging and in some places is altogether out of control Dawning Answers Ronald O. Valdiserri, 2003 Dawning Answers looks at the global HIV AIDS epidemic through the lens of its evolving influence on public health theory and practice Losses from the epidemic have been devastating but the many lessons learned have positively influenced other domains of public health and will continue to generate new approaches to health assessment policy development and assurance Students and teachers of public health and preventive medicine will find in this singular volume useful analyses from the various disciplines comprising public health Handbook of HIV Prevention John L.

epidemic we learned to accompany patients through illness to bear witness to advocate to address issues of death dying and reavement The arrival of more effective therapy has brought with it new capabilities but also new complexities raising difficult problems concerning access to care adherence and toxicity AIDS in Asia Jai P Narain,2004-11-16 This volume discusses the many advances in HIV research new initiatives and their promise for application in the Asian region It highlights the critical need for national commitment and adequate resources and for addressing the underlying HIV risk related behaviours and vulnerabilities The contributors also examine the concept of comprehensive care from home and from the community to the institutional level as well as providing up to date information on HIV drug and vaccine development
