Writing the Black Diasporic City in the Age of Globalization Carol

Bailey,2022-12-16 Writing the Black Diasporic City in the Age of Globalization theorizes the city as a generative semicircular social space where the changes of globalization are most profoundly experienced The fictive accounts analyzed here configure cities as spaces where movement is simultaneously restrictive and liberating and where life prospects are at once promising and daunting In their depictions of the urban experiences of peoples of African descent writers and other creative artists offer a complex set of renditions of twentieth and twenty first century Black urban citizens experience in European or Euro dominated cities such as Boston London New York and Toronto as well as Global South cities such as Accra Kingston and Lagos that emerged out of colonial domination and which have emerged as hubs of current globalization Writing the Black Diasporic City draws on critical tools of classical postcolonial studies as well as those of globalization studies to read works by Ama Ata Aidoo Amma Darko Marlon James Cecil Foster Zadie Smith Michael Thomas Chika Unigwe and other contemporary writers The book also engages the television series Call the Midwife the Canada carnival celebration Caribana and the film series Small Axe to show how cities are characterized as open complicated spaces that are constantly shifting Cities collapse boundaries allowing for both haunting and healing and they can sever the connection from kin and community or create new connections
