Regional Anesthesia Recent Advances And Current Status Clinical Anesthesia:

Regional Anesthesia John J. Bonica, 1969 Principles and Practice of Regional Anaesthesia Graeme McLeod, Colin McCartney, Tony Wildsmith, 2012-11-22 The fourth edition of this highly successful textbook discusses the practical applications of the various methods of regional anaesthesia including ultrasound as well as giving an account of their theoretical aspects. The well established author team use their experience to provide a practical and stimulating book which reflects everyday clinical activity supplemented by high definition ultrasound images and schematic diagrams. The book will also discuss the place of regional anaesthesia in current medical practice particularly with regard to pain processes, ultrasound imaging and patient outcomes. Regional anaesthesia is a rapidly expanding subspecialty of anaesthesia; routine provision of long lasting pain relief and the introduction of real time ultrasound block has fuelled a demand for cadaver and ultrasound based anatomy training courses. Thus it is more important than ever to have a thorough grounding in this exciting subspecialty.

National Library of Medicine Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.), 1971 Principles and Practice of Regional Anaesthesia J. A. W. Wildsmith, Edward N. Armitage, John H. McClure, 2003 This book is aimed at anaesthetists in training and those studying for the FFARCS examination as well as at those senior anaesthetists whose training was completed before the revival of interest in regional anaesthesia. Those already using regional techniques will find the book useful for extending and updating their knowledge. Key features include clear views on often misunderstood subjects such as the pharmacokinetics and systemic toxicity of local anaesthetic drugs and the use of test doses; a comprehensive chapter on the management of patients undergoing regional anaesthesia; an assessment of the present place of spinal anaesthesia and an account of the features of some of the newer spinal agents.

Anaesthesia Joseph Rupprecht, M.J. van Lieburg, J.A. Lee, W. Erdmann, 2012-12-06 Thesiologists were not included. Perhaps the next symposium will have a paper on his many contributions. Even though his dates are not quite modern, 1813-1858, his accomplishments were especially his book On Chloroform and Other Anaesthetics 1858, the first comprehensive textbook on anaesthesia. 2 There has been a real renaissance of interest in the history of anaesthesia. Among those responsible for this rebirth, besides Dr Rupprecht and Dr Erdmann, are Dr Selma Calmes and Dr Rod Calverley, now on the Board of the new American Society for the History of Anesthesiology. It held its inaugural meeting in Atlanta, Georgia, during the annual meeting of the American Society of Anesthesiologists on 9 October 1983. The meeting was well attended and the evening was profitable and delightful. Mention should also be made of the accomplishments of the nurse anaesthetists. 3 They are many in number and generally they work under the direction of a physician anaesthesiologist. Although modern anaesthesia was America's first great medical discovery, it soon traversed the globe and found worldwide acceptance. The British, for example, have made many coeval and historic contributions. Besides Dr Duncum, one thinks of Prof T. Cecil Gray who pioneered the British use of ether, and Dr J. Alfred Lee who was a pioneer in the use of spinal anaesthesia and is currently working on the fifth edition of a textbook on
