Registration Marks Metaphors For Subobjectivity:

Reading Lacan's Écrits: From 'Signification of the Phallus' to 'Metaphor of the Subject' Stijn Vanheule, Derek Hook, Calum Neill, 2018-10-09 The critic was Jacques Lacan's single most important text a landmark in psychoanalysis which epitomized his aim of returning to Freud via structural linguistics philosophy and literature Reading Lacan's critic is the first extensive set of commentaries on the complete edition of Lacan's critic to be published in English An invaluable document in the history of psychoanalysis and one of the most challenging intellectual works of the twentieth century Lacan's critic still today begs the interpretative engagement of clinicians scholars philosophers and cultural theorists The three volumes of Reading Lacan's critic offer just this a series of systematic paragraph by paragraph commentaries by some of the world's most renowned Lacanian analysts and scholars on the complete edition of the critic inclusive of lesser known articles such as Kant with Sade The Youth of Gide Science and Truth Presentation on Transference and Beyond the Reality Principle The originality and importance of Lacan's critic to psychoanalysis and intellectual history is matched only by the text's notorious inaccessibility Reading Lacan's critic is an indispensable companion piece and reference text for clinicians and scholars exploring Lacan's magnum opus Not only does it contextualize explain and interrogate Lacan's arguments it provides multiple interpretative routes through this most labyrinthine of texts Reading Lacan's critic provides an incisive and accessible companion for psychoanalysts and psychoanalytic psychotherapists in training and in practice as well as philosophers cultural theorists and literary social science and humanities researchers who wish to draw upon Lacan's pivotal work

Carbon Footprints as Cultural-Ecological Metaphors Anita Girvan, 2017-10-10 Through an examination of carbon footprint metaphors this book demonstrates the ways in which climate change and other ecological issues are culturally and materially constituted through metaphor The carbon footprint metaphor has achieved a ubiquitous presence in Anglo North American public contexts since the turn of the millennium yet this metaphor remains under examined as a crucial mediator of political responses to the urgent crisis of climate change Existing books and articles on the carbon footprint typically treat this metaphor as a quantifying metric with little attention to the shifting mediations and practices of the carbon footprint as a metaphor This gap echoes a wider gap in understanding metaphors as key figures in mediating more than human relations at a time when such relations profoundly matter As a timely intervention this book addresses this gap by using insights from environmental humanities and political ecology to discuss carbon footprint metaphors in popular and public texts This book will be of great interest to researchers and students of environmental humanities political ecology environmental communication and metaphor studies

The Cambridge Handbook of Metaphor and Thought Raymond W. Gibbs, Jr., 2008-09-22 A comprehensive collection of essays in multidisciplinary metaphor scholarship that has been written in response to the growing interest among scholars and students from a variety of disciplines such as linguistics philosophy anthropology music and psychology These essays explore the significance of metaphor in language thought culture and artistic expression There are five main themes of the book the roots of metaphor metaphor understanding metaphor in language and culture metaphor in reasoning and feeling and metaphor in non verbal expression Contributors come from a variety of academic disciplines including psychology linguistics philosophy cognitive science literature education music and law

The Body as Medium and Metaphor Hannah Westley,2008-01-01 Reconsidering the relationship between autobiography and self portraiture The Body as Medium and Metaphor explores the intertextuality of self representation in twentieth century French art Situating the body as the nexus of intersections between the written word and the visual image this book rethinks the problematic status of the self Starting at the twentieth century s departure from figurative and mimetic representation this study discusses the work of seminal artists and writers including Marcel Duchamp Michel Leiris Francis Bacon Bernard No l Gis le Prassinou Louise Bourgeois and Orlan to articulate the twentieth century s radical revisions of subjectivity that originated from and returned to representations of the word the image and the body This volume will be of interest to students of both French Literature and Art History particularly those who are interested in the interdisciplinary exchanges between visual arts and literature

Rethinking Postmodern Subjectivity Zuzanna Ladyga,2009 What is postmodern literary subjectivity How to talk about it without falling in the trap of negative hyper essentialism or being seduced by exuberant lit speak One way out of this dilemma as this book suggests is via a redefinition of the concept in the context of Emmanuel Levinas and his radical ethics By defining subjectivity as an ethically charged act of language Levinas provides a fresh perspective on the often trivialized aspects of postmodern poetics such as referentiality and affect construction strategies The foregrounding of the ethical dimension of those poetic elements has far reaching consequences for how we read postmodern texts and understand postmodernism in general Thus to prove the benefits of the Levinasian approach the author applies it to the work of the canonical American postmodernist Donald Barthelme and explains the distinctly ethical character of his apparently surfictional experiments

The Subjective Self Harwood Fisher,2001-01-01 For all their strides in understanding how we create and think about cultures psychologists linguists and logicians have had difficulty explaining how we conceive our selves how the self can in fact be both the object and the subjective originator of its surroundings Harwood Fisher s purpose in this far reaching interdisciplinary book is to depict the subjective self in its true complex duality In The Subjective Self Fisher argues that the key to depicting both aspects of the self simultaneously and thus modeling it more holistically than before is to visualize the self in a logical space From an origin point inside this space the self tries out metaphors and launches categories to logically order what it wants sees and encounters This is a creative cognitive process metaphoric framing by which the self invents new forms and depicts new organizations of its experiences impressions and information It is also a generative linguistic process bracketing by which the self can step outside its own expressed thoughts gain new levels of awareness re position itself as an agent responsible for its ideas and statements and in short empower its own identity The framing sets in motion versatile mental categories forms that are projected into mental space where they become objectified The bracketing sets in motion the logical bounds of the I stabilizing the individual s identity and giving thrust to the subjective self s dynamic causal role In elaborating this theory Fisher extends the ideas of Kurt Lewin Jean Piaget and C S Peirce among others By drawing on each of these thinkers he is able to bring their common themes of perspective and construction together in his portrait of the self as a creative iconic space The Camera-Eye Metaphor in Cinema Christian Quendler,2016-11-18 This book explores the cultural intellectual and artistic fascination with camera eye metaphors in film culture of the twentieth century By studying the very metaphor that cinema lives by it provides a rich and insightful map of our understanding of cinema and film styles and shows how cinema shapes our understanding of the arts and media As current new media technologies are attempting to shift the identity of cinema and moving imagery it is hard to overstate the importance of this metaphor for our understanding of the modalities of vision In what guises does the camera eye continue to survive in media that is called new Metaphors in Learner English Susan Nacey,2013-11-15 This volume presents results from a corpus based investigation into the metaphorical production of foreign language learners comparing texts written by Norwegian L2 learners of English with those written by British L1 students Three types of questions are addressed The first has empirically measured answers For example do L2 English writers produce more metaphors than L1 novice writers How frequent are novel metaphors in an L2 as compared with an L1 The second type has more subjective answers How creatively do L2 English learners employ metaphor Are they even expected to be able to produce metaphor at all The third type combines theoretical and methodological perspectives How is metaphorical creativity identified What is the potential role of metaphoric competence Most importantly how are metaphors identified To this end the newly developed Metaphor Identification Procedure is tested and critiqued This book is intended for metaphor researchers corpus linguists applied linguists and language educators Metaphor and Thought Andrew Ortony,1993-11-26 Metaphor and Thought first published in 1979 reflects the surge of interest in and research into the nature and function of metaphor in language and thought In this revised and expanded second edition the editor has invited the contributors to update their original essays to reflect any changes in their thinking Reorganised to accommodate the shifts in central theoretical issues the volume also includes six new chapters that present important and influential fresh ideas about metaphor that have appeared in such fields as the philosophy of language and the philosophy of science linguistics cognitive and clinical psychology education and artificial intelligence Thinking the body as a basis, provocation and burden of life Gert Melville,Carlos Ruta,2015-08-31 The body is at the same time a place where we express duration and or discontinuity in history a witness of radical social changes and a factor of stabilization but also of the transformation of human life and therefore an eminent challenge for every human being This book will contribute in a decisively interdisciplinary and cross cultural way to a better understanding of the place role and connection of the body within social political and cultural shifts
