Reimagining Textuality Textual Studies:

Reimagining Textuality Elizabeth Bergmann Loizeaux, Neil Fraistat, 2002 What happens when in the wake of postmodernism the old enterprise of bibliography textual criticism or scholarly editing crosses paths and processes with visual and cultural studies In Reimagining Textuality major scholars map out in this volume a new discipline drawing on and redirecting a host of subfields concerned with the production distribution reproduction consumption reception archiving editing and sociology of texts

The Textuality of Soulwork Timothy Hunt, 2014-03-25 A new critical perspective on Kerouac's work and his textual practices

Theses on the Metaphors of Digital-Textual History Martin Paul Eve, 2024-07-16 Digital spaces are saturated with metaphor we have pages sites mice and windows Yet in the world of digital textuality these metaphors no longer function as we might expect Martin Paul Eve calls attention to the digital textual metaphors that condition our experience of digital space and traces their history as they interact with physical cultures Eve posits that digital textual metaphors move through three life phases Initially they are descriptive Then they encounter a moment of fracture or rupture Finally they go on to have a prescriptive life of their own that conditions future possibilities for our text environments even when the metaphors have become untethered from their original intent Why is whitespace white Was the digital page always a foregone conclusion Over a series of theses Eve addresses these and other questions in order to understand the moments when digital textual metaphors break and to show us how it is that our textual softwares become locked into paradigms that no longer make sense Contributing to book history literary studies new media studies and material textual studies Theses on the Metaphors of Digital Textual History provides generative insights into the metaphors that define our digital worlds

The Journal of the European Society for Textual Scholarship. Wim Van Mierlo, Alexandre Fachard, 2013 This volume is the 10th issue of Variants In keeping with the mission of the European Society for Textual Scholarship the articles are richly interdisciplinary and transnational They bring to bear a wide range of topics and disciplines on the field of textual scholarship historical linguistics digital scholarly editing classical philology Dutch English Finnish and Swedish Literature publishing traditions in Japan book history cultural history and folklore The questions that are explored what texts are worth editing what is the nature of the relationship between text work document and book what is a critical digital edition all return to fundamental issues that have been at the heart of the editorial discipline for decades With refreshing insight they assess the increasingly hybrid nature of the theoretical considerations and practical methodologies employed by textual scholars while reasserting the relevance and need for producing scholarly editions whether in print or digital and continuing advanced research in bibliographical codes textual transmissions genetic dossiers the fluidity of texts and other such Subjects that connect textual scholarship with broader investigations into our nations literary culture and written heritage

Publishing Blackness George Hutchinson, John Young, 2018-05-09 The first of its kind this volume sets in dialogue African Americanist and textual scholarship exploring a wide range of African American textual history and work The Cambridge Companion to Textual Scholarship Neil Fraistat, Julia Flanders, 2013-05-09

As more and more of our cultural heritage migrates into digital form and as increasing amounts of literature and art are created within digital environments it becomes more important than ever before for us to understand how the medium affects the text The expert contributors to this volume provide a clear engrossing and accessible insight into how the texts we read and study are created shaped and transmitted to us They outline the theory behind studying texts in many different forms and offer case studies demonstrating key methodologies underlying the vital processes of editing and presenting texts Through their multiple perspectives they demonstrate the centrality of textual scholarship to current literary studies of all kinds and express the sheer intellectual excitement of a crucial scholarly discipline entering a new phase of its existence

The American Literature Scholar in the Digital Age Amy E. Earhart, Andrew Jewell, 2010-12-29 By casting the collection explicitly as an outreach to the larger community of Americanists not primarily those who self identify as digital scholars Earhart and Jewell have made an important choice and one that will likely make this a landmark publication Andrew Stauffer University of Virginia The American Literature Scholar in the Digital Age which features a wide range of practitioner scholars is the first of its kind a gathering of people who are expert in American literary studies and in digital technologies scholars uniquely able to draw from experience with building digital resources and to provide theoretical commentary on how the transformation to new technologies alters the way we think about and articulate scholarship in American literature The volume collects articles from those who are involved in tool development usability testing editing and textual scholarship digital librarianship and issues of race and ethnicity in digital humanities while also situating digital humanities work within the larger literary discipline In addition the volume examines the traditional structures of the fields including tenure and promotion criteria modes of scholarly production the skill sets required for scholarship and the training of new scholars The American Literature Scholar in the Digital Age will attract practitioners of digital humanities in multiple fields Americanists who utilize digital materials and those who are intellectually curious about the new movement and materials Amy E Earhart is Assistant Professor in the Department of English at Texas A M University Andrew Jewell is Associate Professor of Digital Projects University Libraries at the University of Nebraska Lincoln Cover art Book background iStockphoto com natashika digitalculturebooks is an imprint of the University of Michigan Press and the Scholarly Publishing Office of the University of Michigan Library dedicated to publishing innovative and accessible work exploring new media and their impact on society culture and scholarly communication Visit the website at www.digitalculture.org The Routledge Handbook of Translation and Methodology Federico Zanettin, Christopher Rundle, 2022-03-10 The Routledge Handbook of Translation and Methodology provides a comprehensive overview of methodologies in translation studies including both well established and more recent approaches The Handbook is organised into three sections the first of which covers methodological issues in the two main paradigms to have emerged from within translation studies namely skopos theory and descriptive translation
