Reinventing Curriculum A Complex Perspective On Literacy And Writing:

Reinventing Curriculum Linda Laidlaw, 2005-05-06 In this book Linda Laidlaw explores the questions What happens when children begin to write Why is it that the teaching and practice of writing seems at times to be difficult in schools How might teachers work differently to create more inviting spaces for developing literacy The premise is that written texts and literacy processes are developed within a complex weave of particular contexts or ecologies and the unique particularity of the learner's experiences histories memories and interpretations Laidlaw offers new information about writing and literacy pedagogy linked to current research in the complexity sciences and cognition and considers the possibilities that might emerge for pedagogy when alternative metaphors images and structures are considered for writing and curriculum The volume includes qualitative and narrative description of writing and literacy situations events and pedagogy and elaborates the historical theoretical and curricular background in which such instruction exists within contemporary schooling Reinventing Curriculum A Complex Perspective on Literacy and Writing addresses literacy through a focus on writing rather than on reading develops an approach to literacy and writing pedagogy that incorporates recent theories and research on learning and the complexity sciences examines perspectives on writing from both a teaching perspective and that of the work of writers makes connections between the acquisition of literacy to research in other domains examines both the benefits and the costs of literacy and challenges commonsense understandings within instruction for example that literacy teaching and learning can occur apart from other aspects of children's learning context and subjectivity or that learning occurs individually rather than collectively This book is important reading for researchers professionals teacher educators and students involved in literacy education and writing instruction and an excellent text for courses in these areas

Reinventing Curriculum Linda Laidlaw, 2005-05-06 The premise of this book is that written texts and literacy processes are developed within a complex weave of particular contexts or ecologies and the unique particularity of the learner's experiences histories memories and interpretations Laidlaw

Complexity and Education Brent Davis, Dennis Sumara, 2014-06-03 This book explores the contributions actual and potential of complexity thinking to educational research and practice While its focus is on the theoretical premises and the methodology not specific applications the aim is pragmatic to present complexity thinking as an important and appropriate attitude for educators and educational researchers Part I is concerned with global issues around complexity thinking as read through an educational lens Part II cites a diversity of practices and studies that are either explicitly informed by or that might be aligned with complexity research and offers focused and practiced advice for structuring projects in ways that are consistent with complexity thinking Complexity thinking offers a powerful alternative to the linear reductionist approaches to inquiry that have dominated the sciences for hundreds of years and educational research for more than a century It has captured the attention of many researchers whose studies reach across traditional disciplinary boundaries to investigate phenomena such as How does the brain work What is consciousness What is intelligence What is the role of emergent technologies in shaping personalities and possibilities How do social collectives work What is knowledge Complexity research posits that a deep similarity among these phenomena is that each points toward some sort of system that learns The authors intent is not to offer a complete account of the relevance of complexity thinking to education not to prescribe and delimit but to challenge readers to examine their own assumptions and theoretical commitments whether anchored by commonsense classical thought or any of the posts such as postmodernism poststructuralism postcolonialism postpositivism postformalism postepistemology that mark the edges of current discursive possibility Complexity and Education is THE introduction to the emerging field of complexity thinking for the education community It is specifically relevant for educational researchers graduate students and inquiry oriented teacher practitioners

Drama and Theatre in Urban Contexts Kathleen Gallagher, Jonothan Neelands, 2014-03-05 Urban theatre can be described as theatre made with or by those whose lives are marked by the urban landscape and its social limits and possibilities At the heart of this text lies the question of how theatre can illuminate the urban and how theatre is illuminated by the urban The city like a play is a space where everything adopts multiple meanings It is an objective thought and a subjective experience a charged and symbolic thing as well as a real material lived reality The chapters in this book illustrate the theatre s uncanny ability to narrate and symbolize the physical and psychic space of the city Running through all of the pieces presented are the themes of power and of young people s sense of agency within the structures they dwell in and are shaped by Through drama education and applied theatre practices the affinity between the urban and its theatres is radically replaced by marginal spaces boulevards and schools As Guillermo Gmez Pea suggests the theatre has gone to the people to serve their local and immediate need for a means of holding the urban and the self so that both can be interrogated and re imagined so that the various dystopias of urban existence can be envisaged as places of urban solidarity and as utopias at least of the mind This book was originally published as a special issue of Research in Drama Education The Journal of Applied Theatre and Performance

Cartographies of Becoming in Education Diana Masny, 2013-04-20 Cartographies of becoming in education A Deleuze Guattari Perspective proposes a non hierarchical approach that maps teaching and learning with the power of affect and what a body can do become in different educational contexts Teaching and learning is an encounter with the unknown and happen as specific responses to particular problems encountered with in life In this edited volume international scholars map out potential ruptures in teaching and learning in order to conceptualize education differently One way is through the multidisciplinary lens of MLT Multiple Literacies Theory in which reading is intensive and immanent The authors deploy different aspects of MLT while creating and experimenting with ethology teaching learning curriculum teacher education and technology in relation to visual arts music mathematics theatre workplace literacy second language education and architecture With the forces of globalization digital media and economic re structuring reconfiguring the social political and economic landscape societies require innovative ways of thinking about education Cartographies of becoming in education A Deleuze Guattari Perspective is a response to problems posed by such forces The problematic surrounding Deleuze Guattari and education continues to grow Diana Masny's scholarship in this area is well known and appreciated through her many essays and books that develop MLT Multiple Literacies Theory Cartographies of Becoming in Education A Deleuze Guattari Perspective continues her effort to broaden the notion of education and show its intersections with MLT The series of essays do this by forming a number of entries five to be precise politicizing education affect and education literacies and becoming teacher becomings and deterritorializing boundaries Each entry explores the way an MLT inflected orientation enables us to further grasp the creative inventiveness of the Deleuze Guattarian tool kit that can be applied to areas of music education ethnography art drama literacy mathematics landscape ecology ethology and teacher education It is a vivid illustration of the cartography that maps the rhizomatic movements that are taking place by international scholars who are deterritorializing education as a discipline of modernity I highly recommend this collection of essays to those of us who are continually asking how might education be rethought through the unthought It opens up new territories Jan Jagodzinski University of Alberta Author of Psychoanalyzing Cinema
