Religion And Human Rights Competing Claims:

Religion and Human Rights Peter Juviler, Carrie Gustafson, 2016-07-01 Much has been written about the issue of religious freedom and church state relations The contributors to this book however take up another side of the question what has been the impact of religion on human rights Representatives from various religious traditions address a broad range of topics from environmental rights to the basic validation of human rights to the rights of women in India and Iran and within Orthodox Judaism to the global imposition of criminal justice to pressures for democratization within the Catholic Church in Latin America The six major essays along with their accompanying replies answer questions and raise issues in a provocative and compelling debate

Islam and the Challenge of Human Rights Abdulaziz Sachedina, 2009-11-05 In 1948 the General Assembly of the United Nations adopted and proclaimed the International Declaration of Human Rights a document designed to hold both individuals and nations accountable for their treatment of fellow human beings regardless of religious or cultural affiliations Since then the compatibility of Islam and human rights has emerged as a particularly thorny issue of international concern and has been addressed by Muslim rulers conservatives and extremists as well as Western analysts and policymakers all have commonly agreed that Islamic theology and human rights cannot coexist Abdulaziz Sachedina rejects this informal consensus arguing instead for the essential compatibility of Islam and human rights He offers a balanced and incisive critique of Western experts who have ignored or underplayed the importance of religion to the development of human rights contending that any theory of universal rights necessarily emerges out of particular cultural contexts At the same time he re examines the juridical and theological traditions that form the basis of conservative Muslim objections to human rights arguing that Islam like any culture is open to development and change Finally and most importantly Sachedina articulates a fresh position that argues for a correspondence between Islam and secular notions of human rights

Geertz, Randi Ruth Warne, 2004 Does Human Rights Need God? Elizabeth M. Bucar, Barbra Barnett, 2005-08-31 When the Universal Declaration of Human Rights was drafted in 1945 French Catholic philosopher Jacques Maritain observed We agree on these rights providing we are not asked why With the why the dispute begins The world since then has continued to agree to disagree fearing that an open discussion of the divergent rationales for human rights would undermine the consensus of the Declaration Is it possible however that current failures to protect human rights may stem from this tacit agreement to avoid addressing the underpinnings of human rights This consequential volume presents leading scholars activists and officials from four continents who dare to discuss the why behind human rights Appraising the current situation from diverse religious perspectives Jewish Protestant Orthodox Muslim Confucian and secular humanist the contributors openly address the question whether God is a necessary part of human rights Despite their widely varying commitments and approaches the authors affirm that an investigation into the why of human rights need not devolve into irreconcilable conflict Contributors Khaled Abou El Fadl Barbra Barnett Elizabeth M Bucar Jean Bethke Elshtain Robert P George Vigen Guroian Louis Henkin Courtney W Howland David Novak Sari Nusseibeh Martin Palou Robert A Seiple Max L Stackhouse Charles Villa Vicencio Anthony C Yu The World's Religions after September 11 Arvind Sharma, 2008-11-30 This set is an unprecedented examination of religion s influence on modern life an honest assessment of how religion can either destroy us or preserve us and a thorough exploration of what steps might be necessary for all religions to join together as a force for good Convening on the fifth anniversary of the terrorist attack on the World Trade Center the global congress The World s Religions after September 11 explored the negative and positive possibilities of the religious dimensions of life The presentations from the congress have been pulled together in this set which addresses religion s intersection with human rights spirituality science healing the media international diplomacy globalization war and peace and more This comprehensive set includes contributions from such well known scholars of religion as Arvind Sharma and a host of others from all the world's religious traditions. This set is an unprecedented examination of religion's influence on modern life, an honest assessment of how religion can either destroy us or preserve us, and a thorough exploration of what steps might be necessary for all religions to join together as a force for good. Because of the attack on the World Trade Center on September 11, 2001, the very concept of religion underwent a paradigm shift. Instead of standing for virtue and piety, peace and harmony, the word religion also came to be inextricably associated with evil, aggression, and terror. People around the world began to question whether the religious and secular dimensions of modern life can be reconciled, whether the different religions of the world can ever coexist in harmony. Indeed, the very future of religion itself has sometimes seemed to be uncertain or at least suspect.

Human Rights and Responsibilities in the World Religions Joseph Runzo, Arvind Sharma, Nancy M. Martin, 2014-10-01. Featuring contributions from over 15 scholars, the book covers such key issues as women's rights, the role of international law, and responsibility for the environment. Public Theology in Law and Life Paul Babie, Brian Edgar, David Wilson, 2012-08-30. Public theology involves the application of biblical and theological principles outside the confines of the church and assesses their implications for wider society. It examines both the theoretical structures of society, the nature of secularity, government, globalisation, pluralism, and so forth, and the myriad specific issues involved in daily life, everything from sport to work-place relations to economics. Public theology is also very importantly a discipline that is practiced by the ordinary Christian as well as the academic, and it is done in public, with all the scrutiny that entails, and in such a way that it communicates to non-Christians, although it remains a theological endeavour. In a real sense, it is theology for the world, from the Word by the people of God. The volume has a variety of contributors and includes an article on the role of public theology in Islam.
