Revenge Of The Crystal Selected Writing On The Modern Object And Its Destiny:

Revenge Of The Crystal - Classic Edition Jean Baudrillard, 1999-01-20 Introduces a wide range of Baudrillard's thoughts including essays on subjectivity sex death and mass media culture Jean Baudrillard: The Disappearance of Culture Richard G. Smith, 2017-04-28 Originally published between 1968 and 2009 this collection of 25 pieces includes six interviews translated into English for the first time and a new transcription of a Q A session with Baudrillard following a lecture he gave in London in 1994 The guiding theme of the collection is Baudrillard's engagement with culture The implications of the implosion of Western culture are dissected and documented in the rich range of material included here

Henry James and the Culture of Publicity Richard Salmon, 1997-10-02 This book examines the relationship between the writings of Henry James and the historical formation of mass culture Throughout his career James was concerned with such characteristically modern cultural forms as advertising biography and the New Journalism forms which together constituted the devouring publicity of modern life Richard Salmon's study situates James's fiction and criticism within the context of the contemporary debates surrounding these rival discursive practices He explores both the nature of James's contribution to the critique of mass culture and the extent of his immersion within it James's persistent and ambivalent negotiation of the boundaries between private and public experience ranged from a defence of the artist's right to privacy to his own counter practice of publicity The Emotional Life of Postmodern Film Pansy Duncan, 2015-11-19 Emotion and Postmodernism is it possible to imagine an odder couple stranger bedfellows less bad company The Emotional Life of Postmodern Film brings this unlikely pair into sustained dialogue arguing that the interdisciplinary body of scholarship currently emerging under the rubric of affect theory may be unexpectedly enriched by an encounter with the field that has become its critical other Across a series of radical re appraisals of canonical postmodern texts from Fredric Jameson's Postmodernism to David Cronenberg's Crash Duncan shows that the same postmodern archive that has proven resistant to strongly subject based and object oriented emotions like anger and sadness proves all too congenial to a series of idiosyncratic borderline emotions from knowingness fascination and bewilderment to boredom and euphoria The analysis of these emotions in turn promises to shake up scholarly consensus on two key counts On the one hand it will restructure our sense of the place and role of emotion in a critical enterprise that has long cast it as the stodgy subjective sister of a supposedly more critically interesting and politically productive affect On the other it will transform our perception of postmodernism as a now historical aesthetic and theoretical moment teaching us to acknowledge more explicitly and to name more clearly the emotional life that energizes it The Cinematic Novel and Postmodern Pop Fiction Décio Torres Cruz, 2019-12-05 D cio Torres Cruz approaches connections between literature and cinema partly through issues of gender and identity and partly through issues of reality and representation In doing so he looks at the various ways in which people have thought of the so called cinematic novel tracing the development of that genre concept not only in the French cin roman and film scenarios but also in novels from the United States England France and Latin America The main tendency he identifies is the blending of the cinematic novel with pop literature through allusions to Pop Art and other postmodern cultural trends His prime exhibits are a number of novels by the Argentinian writer Manuel Puig Betrayed by Rita Hayworth Heartbreak Tango The Buenos Aires Affair Kiss of the Spider Woman and Pubis angelical Bringing in suggestive sociocultural and psychoanalytical considerations Cruz shows how in Puig's hands the cinematic novel resulted in a pop collage of different texts films discourses and narrative devices which fused reality and imagination into dream and desire

Sculpture and the Vitrine John C. Welchman, 2017-07-05 Vitrines and glass cabinets are familiar apparatuses that have in large part defined modern modes of display and visibility both within and beyond the museum They separate objects from their contexts group them with other objects both similar and dissimilar and often serve to reinforce their intrinsic or aesthetic values The vitrine has much in common with the picture frame the plinth and the gallery but it has not yet received the kind of detailed art historical and theoretical discussion that has been brought to these other modes of formal display The twelve contributions to this volume examine some of the points of origin of the vitrine and the various relations it brokers with sculpture first in the Wunderkammer and cabinet of curiosities and then in dialog with the development of glazed architecture beginning with Paxton's Crystal Palace 1851 The collection offers close discussions of the role of the vitrine and shop window in the rise of commodity culture and their apposition with Constructivist design in the work of Frederick Kiesler as well as original readings of the use of vitrines in Surrealism and Fluxus and in work by Joseph Beuys Paul Thek Claes Oldenburg and his collaborators Jeff Koons Mike Kelley Dan Graham Vito Acconci Damien Hirst and Josephine Meckseper among others Sculpture and the Vitrine also raises key questions about the nature and implications of vitrinous space including its fronts onto desire and the spectacle transparency and legibility and onto ideas and practices associated with the archive collecting preserving and ordering

The Spectre of Sound Kevin Donnelly, 2019-07-25 This book is a major new study dealing with notions of film music as a device that desires to control its audience using a most powerful thing emotion The author emphasises the manipulative and ephemeral character of film music dealing not only with traditional orchestral film music but also looks at film music's colonisation of television and discusses pop music in relation to films and the historical dimensions to ability to possess audiences that have so many important cultural and aesthetic effects. It challenges the dominant but limited conception of film music as restricted to film by looking at its use in television and influence in the world of pop music and the traditional restriction of analysis to valued film music either from name composers or from the golden era of Classical Hollywood. Focusing on areas as diverse as horror pop music in film, ethnic signposting television drama and the soundtrack without a film, this is an original study which expands the range of writing on the subject.

Representing Organization
Simon Lilley, Geoffrey Lightfoot, Paulo Amaral, 2004. This textbook provides an accessible theoretical analysis of the organizational impact of information technologies. It seeks to examine and comment upon the myriad ways in which actors, organizations and environments are represented through these technologies. Contemporary threats to organizational form and stability are considered alongside the potential that information technologies offer to both exacerbate and overcome them. It examines amongst others issues surrounding the material and symbolic aspects of information systems, risk and prediction systems, implementation and systems success, knowledge management practices, accountability and other management practices, computerized modelling and the virtual organization. To this end it deploys a number of different theoretical lenses including systems theory, social constructivism, labour process theory, post-structuralism, actor network theory. These offer complementary and contrasting insights into the computerization of managerial work. In order to ensure that the book is both relevant and approachable to students from a range of backgrounds, these theories are applied to real examples of the development and implementation of information systems. This combination fosters practical knowledge that is theoretically informed. The book thus aims to bridge the gap between the abstractions of current theories of organization and the grounded material that forms the bulk of Information Systems literature. It thus offers a novel way into the ongoing debates surrounding technological change and the perennial problems of managerial control. It has been designed to support theoretically informed Information and Technology courses at the advanced undergraduate and postgraduate levels and will also be of interest to academics in the fields of Management Information Technology, Sociological and Cultural studies.

The Jean Baudrillard Reader Steve Redhead, 2008 Jean Baudrillard 1929 2007 was a controversial social and cultural theorist known for his trenchant analyses of media and technological communication Belonging to the generation of French thinkers that included Gilles Deleuze Jean Fran ois Lyotard Michel Foucault and Jacques Lacan Baudrillard has at times been vilified by his detractors but the influence of his work on critical thought and pop culture is impossible to deny many might recognize his name from The Matrix movies which claimed to be based on the French theorist s ideas Steve Redhead takes a fresh look at Baudrillard in relation to the intellectual and political climates in which he wrote Baudrillard sought to produce a theory of modernity but the modern world of the 1950s was radically different from the reality of the early twenty first century Beginning with Baudrillard s initial publications in the 1960s and concluding with his writings on 9 11 and Abu Ghraib Redhead guides the reader through Baudrillard s difficult texts and unorthodox views on current issues He also proposes an original theory of Baudrillard s relation to postmodernism presenting the theorist s work as non postmodernist after Bruno Latour s concept of non modernity Each section of the Reader includes an extract from one of Baudrillard s writings prefaced by a short bibliographical introduction that places the piece in context and puts the debate surrounding the theorist into sharp perspective The conflict over Baudrillard s legacy stems largely from the fact that a comprehensive selection of his writings has yet to be translated and collected into one volume The Jean Baudrillard Reader provides an expansive and much needed portrait of the critic s resonant work Postmodern Surroundings Steven Earnshaw,1994 Exploring Contemporary Craft Jean Johnson,2002 The craft of craft the art of craft here in Canada we re just starting to really talk about these things In March 1999 Jean Johnson who runs Toronto s Craft Studio at Harbourfront Centre organized a wildly successful symposium on the state of craft in Canada Curators writers critics academics and craftspeople spoke about all aspects of craft history practice theory criticism Taken together these papers create a clear picture of the vibrant crafts scene in Canada The symposium was a groundbreaking event a first in Canada offering to the crafts community a new depth of consideration The book too is a Canadian first and it will allow a dialogue about the academic side of the craft movement to continue Each of the book s three sections History Theory and Critical Writing contains a keynote paper and essays by experts in each field including Mark Kingwell writing On Style Blake Gopnik on Reviewing Craft Exhibitions for the Art Pages and Robin Metcalfe addressing Teacup Readings Contextualizing Craft in the Art Gallery Wired for Learning Terry T.
