Review Of Australia's Defence Exports And Defence Industry:

Review of Australia's Defence Exports and Defence Industry Robert J. Cooksey, 1986 Review of Australia's Defence Facilities Robert J. Cooksey, 1988 Review of Australia's Defence Capabilities Paul Dibb, 1986 The Naval Arms Trade Ian Anthony, 1990 This book offers a sober appraisal of the world trade in naval weapon systems at a time when recent attacks on merchant shipping in the Persian Gulf have kept maritime security at the centre of global attention At the same time India outside the international non proliferation regime has become the first ever customer for a nuclear attack submarine In 1987 88 the most expensive and controversial arms sales were related to naval systems and yet while regional navies are busy increasing their firepower the traditional naval powers remain dependent on their sea borne trade In particular the book highlights critical areas in which trade in naval systems differs from the sale of land or air systems and it discusses the implications of these differences Arms Export Regulations Ian Anthony, 1991 Governments have a legal obligation to ensure effective control over arms exports and to monitor and supervise the movement of arms to ensure that they do not fall into unauthorized hands The purpose of this book is to provide a detailed picture of how governments discharge this responsibility Individual chapters describe national efforts to control arms transfers concentrating on the legal framework that exists to regulate arms exports The book includes a discussion of existing multilateral arms transfer control regimes including the United Nations the Coordinating Committee for East West Trade Policy CoCom the Missile Technology Control Regime MTCR and arms embargoes agreed by the Council of Ministers of the European Community Every effort has been made to produce a comprehensive compendium but total success has been prevented by the continued failure of some governments to release adequate information into the public domain Defence and Industry Stewart Woodman, 1992

Sea Power and the Asia-Pacific Geoffrey Till, Patrick Bratton, 2012-02-07 This volume examines the rise and fall of sea powers in the Asia Pacific region Trends in Australian Defence Allan Shephard, 1999 The Australian Arms Trade Graeme Cheeseman, 1988 Australian Government Publications National Library of Australia, 1987 Defence Report Australia. Department of Defence, 1990 Audit Report, 1995 APAIS, Australian Public Affairs Information Service, 1994 Vol for 1963 includes section Current Australian serials a subject list The Economics of Defence, Disarmament, and Peace Keith Hartley, Nick Hooper, 1990 This major reference work is a comprehensive critical guide to the large and growing literature on the economics of defence disarmament and peace It covers the cost of defence spending and its effects on growth investment unemployment technical change and other aspects of a nation's economic performance It includes material on the determinants of defence spending namely defence budgets programme budgeting and procurement policy It also deals with the economic impact of arms limitation disarmament and the conversion from military production to products with peaceful uses Arms Industry Limited Herbert Wulf, 1993 Arms Industry Limited is an empirical account of the size and structure of the world arms industry with special case studies of the United States the former Soviet Union Canada countries in both Western and Central Europe and countries in the less developed world and in the Asia Pacific region The book describes the various strategies which arms producing companies have adopted in order to meet the challenges and commitments of the post cold war world Governments are in the process of restructuring national armed forces and revising military equipment procurement plans Military budgets are tighter in many parts of the world affecting national arms production and arms exports The most common company strategies are to reduce the size of the firm and lay off employees to mothball production facilities to transnationalize firms and to convert firms to non military production While there are counter pressures to a decrease in the production and export of arms in the future companies will probably have to reduce their production capacities and number of employees even further The strong international pressure on governments to regulate arms exports particularly since the 1991 Persian Gulf War is also examined by the international group of experts who have contributed the case studies in the volume APAIS 1991: Australian public affairs information service ,

Air University Library Index to Military Periodicals ,1995 The New Australian Militarism Graeme Cheeseman,St. John Kettle,1990 Essays by Marcia Langton and Chris Tremewan annotated separately Australian national bibliography ,1961 Australian Government Publications ,1987
