African American Journalists Calvin L. Hall, 2009-07-01 In the last decade of the 20th century during a time when African Americans were starting to take inventory of the gains of the civil rights movement and its effects on the lives of black professionals in the public sphere the memoirs of several journalists were published a number of which became national bestsellers African American Journalists examines select autobiographies written by African American journalists in order to explore the relationship between race class gender and journalism practice At the heart of this study is the contention that contemporary memoirs written by African American journalists are quasi political documents_ manifestos written in reaction to and against the forces of institutionalized racism in the newsroom The memoirs featured in this study include Jill Nelson's Volunteer Slavery My Authentic Negro Experience Nathan McCall's Makes Me

Wanna Holler A Young Black Man in America Jake Lamar s Bourgeois Blues An American Memoir and Patricia Raybon s My First White Friend Confessions on Race Love and Forgiveness The exploration of these works increases our understanding of the problems that members of other underrepresented groups may face in the workplace The Cinematic Mirror for Psychology and Life Coaching Mary Banks Gregerson,2009-12-12 Cinema both reflects life and contours life that is its psychological power And for decades clinicians and educators have recognized the value of this power using it to respectively heal in therapy and educate in the classroom The Cinematic Mirror for Psychology and Life Coaching mines the illustrative value of cinema offering therapists and life coaches access to ideas that can motivate and enlighten clients Although many movie guides exist this volume complements the available literature by adding positive psychology mental health and wellness perspectives to the clinical educational coaching mix The serious intent to cull from cinema its underlying psychological value has motivated noted clinicians life coaches and cultural critics to offer science based analysis and intervention strategies Readers may add their own movie insights and professional expertise to this rich foundation The volume covers international as well as domestic cinema in a variety of genres providing a range of film choices relevant to clients lives Beyond this it expands on universal concepts of strengths capabilities and coping methods Chapters in The Cinematic Mirror analyze how movies can create and relieve trauma challenge Hollywood s portrayal of the American family overview the use of movies to examine relationships in therapy explore the acclaimed Up television cinema verite series as studies in personal growth and social change reinterprets images of disability in terms of positive psychology examines models or the lack thereof for the American adolescent rite of passage traces the history of mental illness stereotypes in film The collective wisdom found in The Cinematic Mirror for Psychology and Life Coaching will bring professionals involved in healing coaching counseling education and mentoring not only new applications but new appreciation for the transformative power of film That power already exists Readers just haveto SEE it Annual Review - Chief, National Guard Bureau United States. National Guard Bureau,1989 Researching Creativity in Media Industries Mads Møller T. Andersen,2024-03-20 In this book Mads M ller T Andersen examines the methodological challenges that arise when studying creativity and creative processes in media industries arguing that the field of media studies still has much to learn about how these industries facilitate their own creative processes Andersen introduces and utilizes a theoretical framework of five traditions in creativity to guide readers through five different methods of approaching and understanding the concept of creativity exploring whether media scholars should abandon current romantic understandings of creativity in favor of more progressive and nuanced definitions Ultimately Andersen considers and offers examples of how as a discipline we can design studies of creative processes that also address what we still don t know about creativity in these contexts Scholars interested in media studies cultural studies and research methods will find this book particularly useful Dancing on the Glass Ceiling Don Olcott,Darcy W. Hardy,2006 In Dancing on the Glass Ceiling Olcott Hardy and the contributors explore ideas about women and leadership examining how they intersect with the growth of technology In order to get a clear picture they have explored the research plus interviewed women in various phases of their careers as well as men who have witnessed the evolution of women s leadership responsibilities The book addresses six major questions Does the glass ceiling exist today and if so how has it manifested itself in the modern organization What is the historical background and cultural importance of women in the workplace and how has that influenced women s roles in today s marketplace What skills and talents do successful female leaders see as critical for women to succeed today Are they the same for men How has the technology revolution impacted leadership opportunities and challenges for women and men Are women and men better suited for specific types of leadership roles How can we build new organizational paradigms that center around the aggregate talents and abilities of women and men Finally the book challenges readers to consider these questions in their own work and within their own institutions and as a result to make decisions and plans for a new era      Resources in Education ,2001-04
