Revival Of Death:

The Revival of Death Tony Walter,1994 The current revival of interest in death seeks ultimate authority in the individual self This is the first book to comprehensively examine this revival and relate it to theories of modernity and postmodernity

No Place for Dying Helen Stanton Chapple,2010-04-14 This book shows how dying is a management problem for hospitals occupying space but few billable encounters and of little interest to medical practice or quality control An anthropologist and bioethicist with two decades of professional nursing experience Helen Chapple goes beyond current work on hospital care to present fine grained accounts of the clinicians patients and families who navigate this uncharted untidy and unpredictable territory between the highly choreographed project of rescue and the clinical culmination of death

Death, Gender, and Ethnicity David Field,Jennifer Lorna Hockey,Neil Small,1997 The issues of gender and ethnic provenance have been neglected in many textbooks on death This book explores issues relating to gender and ethnicity to provide health care professionals with an up to date and invaluable textbook

Death, Gender and Sexuality in Contemporary Adolescent Literature Kathryn James,2009-02-10 Considering the trope of woman death the eroticizing of death and the ways in which the gendered subject is represented in dialogue with the processes of death dying and grief James shows how representations of death in young adult literature are invariably associated with issues of sexuality gender and power

Jacobsen,2019-11-26 With intense and violent portrayals of death becoming ever more common on television and in cinema and the growth of death centric movies series texts songs and video clips attracting a wide and enthusiastic global reception we might well ask whether death has ceased to be a taboo What makes thanatic themes so desirable in popular culture Do representations of the macabre and gore perpetuate or sublimate violent desires Has contemporary popular culture removed our unease with death Can social media help us cope with our mortality or can music and art present death as an aesthetic phenomenon This volume adopts an interdisciplinary approach to the discussion of the social cultural aesthetic and theoretical aspects of the ways in which popular culture understands represents and manages death bringing together contributions from around the world focused on television cinema popular literature social media and the internet art music and advertising Governing Death and Loss Stephen Conway,2011 Political economic social cultural and technological changes have led to profound transformations in the ways that death and loss are perceived and managed in contemporary society Over the last few decades the long term shift to chronic illness as a major causal factor has significantly increased the time scale of dying Most people die in institutions and care is typically medical Many communities and ordinary citizens now relinquish control and involvement to experts in the last stages of life However at global and local levels new institutional arrangements are emerging to govern the changing face of death and a new model is being developed to counter claims of the creeping medicalisation of death and dying Emphasising the international context of the issues involved this book illustrates the interlinking nature of society death and loss and gives examples of governance that promotes the empowerment participation and the increasing need for the involvement of ordinary people and communities in differing social and cultural contexts All chapters are written at an accessible level and will appeal to a wide readership Part 1 of the book provides a sociological understanding of the governance of death and loss in international and historical contexts and the implications for practice Part 2 provides examples of good practice drawing upon a sociological understanding

Ethical Dimensions of Geriatric Care S.F. Spicker, S.R. Ingman, Ian Lawson, 1987-10-31 There is both a timeliness and a transcendent rightness in the fact that scholars clinicians and health professionals are beginning to examine the ethics based components of decision making in health care of the elderly Ethics as the discipline concerned with right or wrong conduct and moral duty pervades hospital rooms nursing home corridors physicians offices and the halls of Congress as decisions are made that concern the allocation of health related services to individuals and groups in need In particular care of older persons recently has received disproportionate attention in discussions of ethics and clinical care Age alone of course should not generate special focus on ill individuals about whom concerns arise based on value conflicts tacitly involved in the delivery of health care Having said that age is not the principal criterion for attention to ethics based concerns in health care it must be acknowledged that old people have a high prevalence of conditions that provoke interest and put them in harm's way if value conflicts are not identified and seriously addressed Issues that concern autonomy the allocation of scarce resources inter generational competition and conflict the withholding of treatment in treatable disease and substitute and proxy decision making for the cognitively impaired all have special relevance for older persons A Networked Self and Birth, Life, Death Zizi Papacharissi, 2018-08-06 We are born live and die with technologies This book is about the role technology plays in sustaining narratives of living dying and coming to be Contributing authors examine how technologies connect disrupt or help us reorganize ways of parenting and nurturing life They further consider how technology sustains our ways of thinking and being hopefully reconciling the distance between who we are and who we aspire to be Finally they address the role technology plays in helping us come to terms with death looking at technologically enhanced memorials online rituals of mourning and patterns of grief enabled through technology Ultimately this volume is about using technology to reimagine the art of life The Origin and History of Missions ... Thomas Smith, 1837
