Revolution In Zanzibar An Americans Cold War Tale:

Revolution In Zanzibar Donald Petterson, 2009-04-21 The Cold War exploded in Zanzibar in 1964 when African rebels slaughtered one of every ten Arabs Led by a strange messianic Ugandan Cuban trained factions headed the rebels making Zanzibar in the eyes of Washington a potentially cancerous base for the communist subversion of mainland Africa Exotic Zanzibar fabled island of spices former slave trading entrept and stepping off point for 19th century expeditions into the vast interior of the Dark Continent had succumbed to the terror of 20th century revolution and Cold War intrigue In the vivid eyewitness tradition of The Bang Bang Club and The Skull beneath the Skin Donald Petterson weaves an engrossing tale of human drama played out against a background of violence and horror As the only American in Zanzibar throughout the revolution Petterson reports with the inside authority of a highly placed diplomatic observer illuminating how the current troubles in Zanzibar are rooted in the Cold War and the revolution of 1964 Language and Collective Mobilization Nadra

O. Hashim, 2009-06-16 Language and Collective Mobilization analyzes the origins of communal conflict in five phases of Zanzibar s modern history The first phase examines the implementation of British colonial control focusing on the conversion of Zanzibar s subsistence farming economy to a cash crop plantation complex This first phase of colonial rule disrupted a variety of indigenous political and social institutions which traditionally promoted peace and stability During subsequent phases of colonial rule the British government devised political economic and educational policies that promoted elite Arab rule at the expense of the majority Swahili speaking population Colonial authorities rendered illegal any attempts by Swahilis to organize political resistance a rule which exacerbated anti Arab animosity Colonial rule ended in 1964 when Swahili speaking Zanzibaris led a violent revolution against English command and Arab control Having forced a variety of wealthy Arab and Indian communities off the island Swahili revolutionaries allowed a small number of Indian merchants and a few Shirazi farmers to remain Less than twenty years after the revolution in this fifth phase of Zanzibar s political history partisan conflict between the Shirazi and Swahili populations threatens to unleash a new rash of violence The social climate mirrors the first phase of British rule where economic stratification deepens and political tensions grow The analysis offered in this book will find an audience in students scholars journalists and policymakers interested in understanding so called ethnic conflict in Africa Contemporary Issues in Swahili Ethnography Iain Walker, 2018-10-11 The term Swahili describes the Muslim peoples of the East African coast speakers of Kiswahili or closely related languages who have historically filled roles as middlemen and merchants the cosmopolitan products of a trading economy between Africa and the Indian Ocean world This collection brings together anthropologists working on the greater Swahili world and the issues it confronts dealing with societies from southern Somalia northern Mozambique and the Comoro Islands to Zanzibar and Mafia The authors discuss a range of contemporary issues such as the shifting roles of Islam on the mainland coast consumerism conservation memory and belonging in Zanzibar how a Muslim society deals with HIV AIDS social change development and political strategies in the Comoros and Swahili women in London The diversity of these themes reflects the diversity of the Swahili world itself despite a cohesive cultural identity built upon shared practices religious beliefs and language the challenges facing Swahili people are multiple and complex This book comprises articles originally published in the Journal of Eastern African Studies along with some new chapters

coast port city of Dar es Salaam literally the Haven of Peace hosts a population reflecting a legacy of long relations with the Arabian Peninsula and a diaspora emanating in waves from the Indian subcontinent By the 1960s after decades of European imperial intrusions Tanzanian nationalist forces had peacefully dismantled the last British colonial structures of racial segregation and put in place an official philosophy of nonracial nationalism Yet today more than five decades after independence race is still a prominent and publicly contested subject in Dar es Salaam What makes this issue so dizzyingly elusive for government bureaucrats and ordinary people alike is East Africa's location on the Indian Ocean a historic crossroads of diverse peoples possessing varied ideas about how to reconcile human difference social belonging and place of origin Based on a range of archival oral and newspaper sources from Tanzania and India this book explores the history of cross cultural encounters that shaped regional ideas of diaspora and nationhood from the earliest days of colonial Tanganyika when Indian settlement began to expand dramatically to present day Tanzania a nation always under construction The book focuses primarily on two prominent city spaces schools and cinemas the one a site of education the other a site of leisure one typically a programmatic entity of government the other usually a bastion of commercial enterprise Nonetheless the forces shaping schools and cinemas as they developed into busy centers of urban social interaction were surprisingly similar the state community organizations nationalist movements economic change and the transnational winds of Indian Ocean culture and capital Whether in the form of institutional apparatuses like networks of Indian teacher importation and curricula adoption or through the market predominance of the Indian film industry schools and cinemas in East Africa historically were influenced by actions and ideas from around the Indian Ocean Diaspora and Nation in the Indian Ocean argues that an Indian Ocean wide perspective enables an examination of the transnational production of ideas about race against a backdrop of changing relationships and claims of belonging as new notions of nationhood and diaspora emerged It bridges an academic divide because historians often either focus on the Indian diaspora in isolation or write it out of the story of African nation building Further in contrast to the swell of publications on global Indian or South Asian diasporas that highlight longings for and contacts with the homeland the book also demonstrates that much of the creative production of diasporic Indian identities formed in East Africa was a result of local albeit cosmopolitan encounters across cities like Dar es Salaam
