Thomas Molnar, Herbert Marcuse, 2023-04-14 This series provides a forum for the critical review of enduring issues concerning ethics and society The text of the debate between Herbert Marcuse and Sir Karl Popper which follows in this volume raises many important issues The crucial issues between the two participants are 1 their anthropological axiological positions with respect to the nature of man society and the practical functions of democracy as a mode of self government 2 the conceptions of science and of philosophy which lie behind each thinker s claims with respect to these and 3 their respective conceptions of the means required and feasible for attaining their respective social goals The remarks which follow will attempt to focus upon and deal critically with the problems implicit in these three areas

The Mexican Revolution Jurgen Buchenau, Timothy Henderson, 2022-10-03 Henderson and Buchenau have done an excellent and thoughtful job of collecting a wide range of voices for students to learn about the Mexican Revolution and its causes both from above and from below I'm particularly appreciative of the authors inclusion of women's voices and women's issues of the era including the point of view of the first woman elected to public office in Mexico They deserve praise for including documents that complicate widely accepted heroic revolutionary narratives of the period for students such as the experience of soldaderas and the massacre of Chinese people in Torreón It is also worth mentioning that the editors have done an admirable job in choosing documents from across Mexico's many diverse and heterogeneous regions The general Introduction is excellent it is both accurate and highly readable for students It is no easy feat to succinctly describe both the events and the significance of this period in Mexican history as the authors have done here Sarah Osten The University of Vermont
