Cultural Encounters in Translated Children's Literature Helen Frank, 2014-04-08 Cultural Encounters in Translated Children's Literature offers a detailed and innovative model of analysis for examining the complexities of translating children's literature and sheds light on the interpretive choices at work in moving texts from one culture to another The core of the study addresses the issue of how images of a nation locale or country are constructed in translated children's literature with the translation of Australian children's fiction into French serving as a case study Issues examined include the selection of books for translation the relationship between children's books and the national and international publishing industry the packaging of translations and the importance of titles blurbs and covers the linguistic and stylistic features specific to translating for children intertextual references the function of the translation in the target culture didactic and pedagogical aims euphemistic language and explicitation and literariness in translated texts The findings of the case study suggest that the most common constructs of Australia in French translations reveal a preponderance of traditional Eurocentric signifiers that identify Australia with the outback the antipodes the exotic the wild the unknown the void the end of the world the young and innocent nation and the Far West Contemporary signifiers that construct Australia as urban multicultural Aboriginal worldly and inharmonious are seriously under represented The study also shows that French translations are conventional conservative and didactic showing preference for an exotic rather than local specificity with systematic manipulation of Australian referents betraying a perception of Australia as antipodean rural exoticism The significance of the study lies in underscoring the manner in which a given culture is constructed in another cultural milieu especially through

A. Aldrich,2018-03-02

Ulaanbaatar beyond Water and Grass M. A. Aldrich,2018-03-02 Ulaanbaatar beyond Water and Grass is the first book in the English language that takes the visitors to an in depth exploration of the capital of Mongolia In the first section of the book M A Aldrich paints a detailed portrait of the history religion and architecture of Ulaanbaatar with reference to how the city evolved from a monastic settlement to a communist inspired capital and finally to a major city of free wheeling capitalism and Tammany Hall politics The second section of the book offers the reader a tour of different sites within the city and beyond bringing back to life the human dramas that have played themselves out on the stage of Ulaanbaatar Where most guide books often lightly discuss the capital Ulaanbaatar beyond Water and Grass A Guide to the Capital of Mongolia reveals much that remains hidden from the temporary visitor and even from the long term resident Writing in a quirky idiosyncratic style the author shares his appreciation and delight in this unique urban setting indeed in all things Mongolian The book finally does justice to one of the most neglected cultural capitals in Asia Combining history ethnography architecture city planning and folklore with a delightful dash of irony and personal opinion Michael Aldrich's Ulaanbaatar beyond Water and Grass is an authoritative introduction to Mongolia's capital city For first time visitors or long term academics this is quite simply the best book available on Ulaanbaatar Jack Weatherford author of Genghis Khan and the Making of the Modern World The charm of this superb guide to Mongolia's mysterious capital is the exuberance and love the author bestows on his subject Michael Aldrich's erudition is profound and all embracing and he is as comfortable discussing abstruse aspects of Buddhism as he is the city's history from its pastoral and feudal origins through Manchu suzerainty to Soviet communism to the wild capitalism of the present day He never misses the opportunity for a colourful and amusing anecdote or tidbit of scandal to relish an obscure custom to delight in the spice in a local dish or to pause and admire the beauty of a particular artwork building or monument The prose rings with his idiosyncratic personality knowledgeable urbane and sceptical sometimes downright cynical but always passionate and committed Carrying this book through Ulaanbaatar's streets or curling into its pages on a sofa at home he is the perfect companion squeezing stories out of ancient stones conjuring ghosts and elegantly baring the city's soul Ulaanbaatar beyond Water and Grass will become as great a classic of travel literature for Central Asia as J G Links's Venice for Pleasure was for Europe Adam Williams author of The Palace of Heavenly Pleasure Destined to become the quintessential introduction to Ulaanbaatar not only in terms of the wealth of information but also in terms of the sympathetic understanding and humour the author shares with the reader Genghis Khan would have loved it Bill Porter author of Road to Heaven Encounters with Chinese Hermits and Finding Them Gone Visiting China's Poets of the Past Michael Aldrich's guide to Ulaanbaatar reveals a city of religion of revolution and latterly of bold new experiment It is both a journey through the city of today as well as an imagining of the historical city now lost to development Paul French author of The Old Shanghai A Z This is an interesting and illuminating book providing fascinating details on the history and evolution of Mongolia's capital and largest city It should definitely be included on the essential reading list for anyone living or working in Mongolia Jonathan Addleton Executive Director of American Center for Mongolian Studies former US Ambassador to Mongolia author of Mongolia and the United States A Diplomatic History demolishes these simplistic assumptions presenting instead a complex and nuanced picture of the sponsored documentary in flux Patrick Russell and James Piers Taylor explore the reasons for the period's critical neglect and address the sponsorship production distribution and key themes of British documentary They paint a vivid picture of institutions from public bodies to multinational industries constantly redefining their relationships with film as a form of enlightened public relations Many of the issues that these films addressed could not be more topical today the rise of environmentalism the balance of state and industry individual and community a nation and a world travelling from bust to boom and back again In the second part of the book contributors from the curatorial and academic world provide career biographies of key film makers of the period From Lindsay Anderson's lesser known early career to neglected film makers like John Krish Sarah Erulkar Eric Marquis and Derrick Knight a kaleidoscopic picture is built up of the myriad relationships of artist and sponsor
