Studies in Short Fiction ,1990 Emerging Methods in Psychology Seth Sorgan, 2017-09-08 The motivation for this volume in the History and Theory of Psychology series is to look across sub disciplines within psychology and highlight instances where researchers transcended the tendency to think about methodology along traditional lines Contributors have located examples of researchers who built upon existing ideas to create methods true to their interests and theoretical convictions Emerging Methods in Psychology shows how a discipline creates new methods and carves out possibilities that not only generate data but also advance knowledge of human psychological functioning It concentrates on showcasing the possibilities that exist when the researcher focuses on the relationship between theory method and data The question of what kind of expertise is required is a key issue This is particularly the case in psychology where the tradition of standardizing methods over the last century has served to stabilize research questions Knowledge creation is deeply affective and ambiguous rather than the secure accumulation of data by a socially legitimized procedure This innovative volume moves beyond psychology as social engineering into new varieties of social knowledge

Violence in Argentine Literature David William Foster, 1995 An analysis of selected texts that are viewed as cultural responses to military tyranny and especially to the military dictatorship in Argentina between 1976 and 1983 this important work studies the process of institutional redemocratization Basing his discussion on the principle that a literary work constitutes a rewriting of the sociohistorical text Foster examines a range of essays and novels for the ways in which they structure an interpretation of sociopolitical events Of particular concern is the ideological framing of the literary work and the semiotic complications that arise in the rewriting of a complex and often elusive historical past Foster pays special attention to the contributions of feminist writing and discusses two dramatic texts by women There are also references to other dimensions of subalternity especially within the framework of the military's tight ideological array of enemies of the fatherland whose cultural production suffered repression Foster discusses the works of such authors as Enrique Medina Marta Lynch Griselda Gambaro Ricardo Piglia and Alejandra Pizarnik among others By focusing on major literary texts produced during a time of censorship and other forms of repression Foster provides a deeper understanding of Argentine culture Scholars and students of Latin American literature in general and humanists and social scientists specializing in Argentina in particular will welcome this insightful new contribution
