Joost-Gaugier, 2002-05-06 Raphael's Stanza della Segnatura in the Vatican Palace has often been considered the artist's most aesthetically perfect work Executed between 1508 and 1511 it features a painted ceiling a pavement of inlaid marble and four frescoed walls all orchestrated with a cast of famous historical figures who exemplify the various disciplines of learning Joost Gaugier's study is the first to examine the elements of the Stanza della Segnatura as an ensemble exploring the meaning of the frescoes and accompanying decoration in light of recent studies into the intellectual world of High Renaissance Rome A World History of Art Hugh Honour, John Fleming, 2005 Over two decades this art historical tour de force has consistently proved the classic introduction to humanity's artistic heritage From our paleolithic past to our digitised present every continent and culture is covered in an articulate and well balanced discussion In this Seventh Edition the text has been revised to embrace developments in archaeology and art historical research while the renowned contemporary art historian Michael Archer has greatly expanded the discussion of the past twenty years providing a new perspective on the latest developments The insight elegance and fluency that the authors bring to their text are complemented by 1458 superb illustrations half of which are now in colour These images together with the numerous maps and architectural plans have been chosen to represent the most significant chronological regional and individual styles of artistic expression Art in Renaissance Italy John T. Paoletti, Gary M. Radke, 2005 Art in Renaissance Italy sets the art of that time in its context exploring why it was created and in particular looking at who commissioned the palaces and cathedrals the paintings and the sculptures The Main Themes of Raphael's Stanza Della Segnatura and Their Unification Sandra Kuberski, 2015-01-08 Essay from the year 2012 in the subject Art History of Art grade 1 7 University of Essex Art History course The High Renaissance in Italy language English abstract Raphael must have started with the decoration of the ceiling around 1508 right after he moved from Florence to Rome The Stanze are a group of four rooms at the Vatican Palace of which the Stanza della Segnatura is the second although it is known that it was the first of the rooms being decorated The purpose of the room is controversial The name of the Stanza suggests that it was the room where the pope signed important documents Julius II however died shortly after the completion and so art historians believe that this usage dates back to post-Julian times and that the room was originally designed as library On closer examination this assumption is practically undeniable in regard to the overall unification of the room The aim of this essay is to examine the main themes of the frescoes in the Stanza della Segnatura and to explain how Raphael combines them into a unified cycle Tracing the Visual Language of Raphael's Circle to 1527 Alexis R. examines how the Renaissance master's style, one infused with borrowed visual quotations from other artists both past and present, proved influential in his relationship with associate Baldassare Peruzzi and in the development of the artists within his thriving workshop. Shedding new light on the important yet often overshadowed figures within this network, this book calls upon key case studies to convincingly illustrate how this visual language and its recombination evolved during Raphael's Roman career and subsequently served as a springboard for artistic innovation for these close associates as they collaborated in the years following Raphael's death. , Architectural Invention in Renaissance Rome Yvonne Elet, 2018-01-11 Villa Madama Raphael's late masterwork of architecture, landscape, and decoration for the Medici popes is a paradigm of the Renaissance villa. The creation of this important unfinished complex provides a remarkable case study for the nature of architectural invention. Drawing on little-known poetry describing the villa while it was on the drawing board, as well as ground plans, letters, and antiquities once installed there, Yvonne Elet reveals the design process to have been a dynamic collaborative effort involving humanists as well as architects. She explores design as a self-reflexive process and the dialectic of text and architectural form, illuminating the relation of word and image in Renaissance architectural practice. Her revisionist account of architectural design as a process engaging different systems of knowledge, visual and verbal, has important implications for the relation of architecture and language, meaning in architecture, and the translation of idea into form. Raphael's Ostrich Una Roman D'Elia, 2016-04-27 Raphael's Ostrich begins with a little-studied aspect of Raphael's painting the ostrich, which appears as an attribute of Justice painted in the Sala di Costantino in the Vatican. Una Roman D'Elia traces the cultural and artistic history of the ostrich from its appearances in ancient Egyptian hieroglyphs to the menageries and grotesque ornaments of sixteenth-century Italy. Following the complex history of shifting interpretations given to the ostrich in scientific, literary, religious, poetic, and satirical texts and images, D'Elia demonstrates the rich variety of ways in which people made sense of this living monster, which was depicted as the embodiment of heresy, stupidity, perseverance, justice, fortune, gluttony, and other virtues and vices. Because Raphael was revered as a god of art, artists imitated and competed with his ostrich, while religious and cultural critics complained about the potential for misinterpreting such obscure imagery. This book not only considers the history of the ostrich but also explores how Raphael's painting forced viewers to question how meaning is attributed to the natural world, a debate of central importance in early modern Europe at a time when the disciplines of modern art history and natural history were developing. The strangeness of Raphael's ostrich, situated at the crossroads of art, religion, myth, and natural history, both reveals lesser-known sides of Raphael's painting and illuminates major cultural shifts in attitudes toward nature and images in the Renaissance. More than simply an examination of a single artist or a single subject, Raphael's Ostrich offers an accessible, erudite, and charming alternative to Vasari's pervasive model of the history of sixteenth-century Italian art. renovatio urbis Nicholas Temple, 2011-04-25 Examining the urban and architectural developments in Rome during the Pontificate of Julius II (1503-13), this book focuses on the political religious and artistic motives behind the changes Each chapter focuses on a particular project from the Palazzo dei Tribunali to the Stanza della Segnatura and examines their topographical and symbolic contexts in relationship to the broader vision of Julian Rome This original work explores not just historical sources relating to buildings but also humanist antiquarian texts papal sermons eulogies inscriptions frescoes and contemporary maps An important contribution to current scholarship of early sixteenth century Rome its urban design and architecture The Art of the Renaissance Lucia Corrain,2008 Arts
