Golden Sayings of Epictetus is one of three key texts along with the Meditations of Marcus Aurelius and Seneca's Letters From A Stoic from which we know the philosophy of Stoicism Epictetus ca 50 ca 130 AD primarily taught about the philosophy of happiness and virtue To Epictetus external happenings were determined by fate and were therefore beyond human control He believed that people could accept whatever happened to them in a calm and unemotional manner if they recognized that certain things were not under their control Even though fate played a role in events Epictetus still believed that individuals were responsible for their own actions Although he was born into slavery and endured a permanent physical disability Epictetus maintained that all people are free to control their lives and to live in harmony with nature We will always be happy he argued if we learn to desire that things should be exactly as they are From the Inside Out Jill Lindsey Harrison, 2019-10-29 An examination of why government agencies allow environmental injustices to persist Many state and federal environmental agencies have put in place programs policies and practices to redress environmental injustices and yet these efforts fall short of meeting the principles that environmental justice activists have fought for In From the Inside Out Jill Lindsey Harrison offers an account of the bureaucratic culture that hinders regulatory agencies' attempts to reduce environmental injustices It is now widely accepted that America's poorest communities communities of color and Native American communities suffer disproportionate harm from environmental hazards with higher exposure to pollution and higher incidence of lead poisoning cancer asthma and other diseases linked to environmental ills And yet Harrison reports some regulatory staff view these problems as beyond their agencies' area of concern requiring too many resources or see neutrality as demanding color blind administration Drawing on more than 160 interviews with interviewees including 89 current or former agency staff members and more than 50 environmental justice activists and others who interact with regulatory agencies and more than 50 hours of participant observation of agency meetings both open and closed door Harrison offers a unique account of how bureaucrats resist undermine and disparage environmental justice reform and how environmental justice reformers within the agencies fight back by trying to change regulatory practice and culture from the inside out Harrison argues that equity not just aggregated overall improvement should be a metric for evaluating environmental regulation The Power of Nice Ronald M.
