humor and with the insight derived from the author's three decades of intimate interactions with Russia. Among the many interesting stories in the book: An expedition to The Well to Hell, A music school in one of the most polluted towns on earth, An energetic youth activist branded as a foreign agent, Russia's largest manufacturer of barbells who also makes cloudberry preserves, A roadside berry seller recently paroled from prison, A blacksmith who is a Jehovah's Witness, A bone-chilling trip to the foundation place of the Russian state, The slightly off-kilter leader of St. Petersburg's Cossack community, A retired village doctor who can't stop working because he won't be replaced, A piece of Nebraska transplanted into the middle of Russia's Black Earth region. There were also craft beer makers, ballroom dancers, policemen, restaurant owners, an opera student, a priest, a single mother, an accessibility activist, teachers, doctors, a best-selling author, soap makers, journalists, a sailor, a winemaker, and a woman taking on the male-dominated world of Russian hockey. And no trip to Russia would be complete without a run-in with security officials in leather jackets. So there is also that. Taken together, the stories from this epic road trip create a compelling portrait of Russia and its people. The book could not be more timely; recent events show how vital it is for Americans to continue working to understand Russia. Jürgen Böttcher and Documentary Film Elizabeth Daggett

Matar, 2024-01-12. Jürgen Böttcher and Documentary Film introduces the reader to this east German filmmaker who, despite having made 40 films from the east side of the Berlin Wall, is practically unknown. Through the comparison of films made in the same year, one by an American and one by Böttcher, the author places him as ahead of his time in regards to technology, content, and style, and neck-and-neck with contemporary American filmmakers in cinematic direct cinema. The book moves beyond Böttcher's dramatic biography to explore his role in the history of film. Was it actually the Germans who created sync sound for documentary? When and how were women featured? Offering a concise journey through the history of documentary film within this cultural context, but also a deep dive into specific case studies that show the nuances and complexities of classifying film texts, this volume will interest students and scholars of film studies, German cinema, cinematic film production, film theory, and world cinema.

Lish and Garo Sparo, The Costumes of Burlesque brings 150 years of burlesque costume history to life.
