Sights and Sensations in Europe Junius Henri Browne,1884 A Cultural History of the Senses in the Renaissance Herman Roodenburg,2014-10-23 We know the Renaissance as a key period in the history of Europe It saw the development of court and urban cultures witnessed the first global voyages of discovery and gave rise to the Reformation and Counter Reformation It also started with the invention of oil painting linear perspective and moveable type all visual technologies Does that mean as has been suggested that the Renaissance stands for the ascendancy of the eye If so then what happened to the sensory extremes which the famous Dutch historian Johan Huizinga still perceived in the 15th century Did they simply disappear Or is there another history to be told a history of a surprising continuity not only of the sense of hearing but also of the lower senses those of taste smell and touch And was the Renaissance not first and foremost a time of deep sensory anxiety This volume assembling nine outstanding specialists seeks to answer these questions while offering a lively and sensational portrait of the period A Cultural History of the Senses in the Renaissance presents essays on the following topics the social life of the senses urban sensations the senses in the marketplace the senses in religion the senses in philosophy and science medicine and the senses the senses in literature art and the senses and sensory media Catalogue of the Library of the Mercantile Library Association of San Francisco Anonymous,2023-05-17 Reprint of the original first published in 1874 The publishing house Anatiposi publishes historical books as reprints Due to their age these books may have missing pages or inferior quality Our aim is to preserve these books and make them available to the public so that they do not get lost

The Feeling Heart in Medieval and Early Modern Europe Katie Barclay,Bronwyn Reddan,2019-12-02 The heart is an iconic symbol in the medieval and early modern European world In addition to being a physical organ it is a key conceptual device related to emotions cognition the self and identity and the body The heart is read as a metaphor for human desire and will and situated in opposition to or alongside reason and cognition In medieval and early modern Europe the feeling heart the heart as the site of emotion and emotional practices informed a broad range of art literature music heraldry medical texts and devotional and ritual practices This multidisciplinary collection brings together art historians literary scholars historians theologians and musicologists to highlight the range of meanings attached to the symbol of the heart the relationship between physical and metaphorical representations of the heart and the uses of the heart in the production of identities and communities in medieval and early modern Europe Senses and Religion Jurij Fikfak,Gábor Barna,2007-01-01 Knjiga

Exploring the Senses Axel Michaels,Christoph Wulf,2017-09-19 This fascinating volume offers a transdisciplinary and transcultural approach to understanding the senses by exploring themes in anthropologies of sound sight smell taste touch and movement as expressed through aesthetic perceptual religious and spiritual experiences In drawing upon comparative perspectives from Indian and Western theories the essays demonstrate the integral relation of senses with each other as well as with allied notions of the body emotion and cultural memory Stressing the continued relevance of senses as they manifest in a globalized world under the influence of new media this work will interest scholars of anthropology cultural studies sociology ritual studies psychology religion philosophy and history What and how to Read Gustav Adolph Fidelie Van Rhyn,1875 Finding List ... Buffalo Library,1885 What and how to read: a guide to recent English Literature, containing a classified list of the best books published in England and America during the past five years, etc G. A. F. VAN RHYN,1875 The Routledge History of the Senses Andrew Kettler,Will Tullett,2025-06-26 The Routledge

History of the Senses presents readers with an overview of the field As well as pointing to directions for the future of the discipline it illustrates the extent to which the subject offers a considerable space for the exploration of diverse historical topics through the lens of sensory experience The handbook brings together essays and case studies from some of the leading academics on the history of the senses Together they not only chart topics and arguments in existing scholarship but introduce fresh methodologies for future analyses Specifically the chapters collectively show that the senses of the historical body often portray the intensity of the invasion of capital upon the functions of the mind throughout global history As a global history this work arrives at a time when many sensory historians are looking for a touchstone for moving beyond the often heavily Western frameworks that dominate the existing literature on the historical senses Not only will this book appeal to students and scholars of the history of senses visual studies art history food studies and many of the social sciences but individual chapters also offer useful reading material for a wide range of history modules and contemporary topics
