Presence in the Tabernacle and in the World Adelaide Mary Abraham, 2015-04-17 The passage from Justin martyr came from my notes I took from my class at Sacred Heart Seminary in 1992 I asked my sister to bring me my notes I left in her attic and when I reached into the box to see what I had the two papers I picked were notes on Justin martyr page eight and William Wordsworth's Ode to Immortality my favorite poem I wrote page eight on Justin's paper because it was an essay I was writing I did not even know I would be running into Justin martyr's notes let alone use him in my writing on the Holy Eucharist Religion, Spirituality and Everyday Practice Giuseppe Giordan, William H. Swatos, Jr., 2011-08-14

The current generation of young adults at least in the Western world has shown a marked tendency toward a preference for describing themselves as spiritual as contrasted to religious This book seeks to examine the possible meanings and consequences associated with this contrast in terms of the similarities and differences that affect those who use these terms with respect to the everyday practices that they themselves employ or believe should follow from being self defined as religious or spiritual or not The several chapters in this volume take up the religious spiritual contrast specifically through investigations into practice In what ways do people who claim to be religious or spiritual define these self images as manifest in their own lives How on a daily basis does a person who considers himself or herself religious or spiritual live out that self image in specific ways that she or he can describe to others even if not share with others Are there ways that being spiritual can involve religion or ways that being religious can involve spirituality and if so how do these differ from concepts in prior eras e g Ignatian spirituality Orthodox spirituality Anglican spirituality etc We also explore if there are institutions of spiritual practice to which those who term themselves spiritual turn or if the difference implied by these terms may instead be between institutionalized and de institutionalized expressions of practice including but not limited to self spiritualities

Jesuit Art and Czech Lands, 1556-1729 Katerina Horníčková, Michal Šronek, 2023-02-16 This collection examines how the Society of Jesus used art and architecture in its missionary efforts in the Lands of the Bohemian Crown from the sixteenth century to the eighteenth. The Jesuits used a variety of visual media to reinvigorate the cult of miraculous images, saints, and local Catholic customs in the Central European region where a tradition of religious dissent went back to the legendary Hussites of the 15th century. Jesuit art is seen as resulting from the transfer, local adaptation, and visualization of ideas about image theology, the order's global mission, its self-promotion, and the construction of the religious past. Examining the architecture, statues, images, murals, and decorative programs of Jesuit complexes and other visual media, devotional prints, medieval images, the essays here demonstrate how the Jesuit Order cultivated the subjects and functions of art to promote concepts of Catholic piety as they grew into one of the most successful agents of Catholic Reform in the Bohemian kingdom.

Christianity John Chathanatt, 2024-01-08 Published in the Series Encyclopedia of Indian Religions, this volume is devoted to Christianity in India where it has had a long presence going back to the time of the apostles of Jesus Christ. It focuses on the history, origin, organizations, and local engagements, belief system, worship practices, Rites, Rituals, Christian life, Contributions, Spirituality, and a few of the main doctrinal and theological items. It further examines the earlier phase of the history of Christianity starting with the traditional belief of the arrival of St. Thomas in AD 52, moving to the periods of its association with the Chaldean church, the Portuguese, the Dutch, English, and so on. This volume highlights the missionary activities of persons like St. Francis Xavier, the creative contributions made to the inter-religious dialogue by such people as Roberto de Nobili (1577-1656) and Swami Abhishiktananda (1910-1973), the linguistic and educational contributions of some of the pioneers like the German Jesuit Johannes Ernst Hanxleden (known as Arnos Padiri, 1681-1732), Herman Gundert (1814-1893), St. Elias Kuriakos Chavara (1805-1871), and a fortiori the enormous contributions in the healthcare area throughout the country. Caring for and serving the socio-economically marginalized ones, the peripheralized people, formed an integral part of the Christian activity in India as it is done even today. This is highlighted very much in the volume. It further explores the contact India had with European Christianity, showing that European Christianity proved to have wider influence in the Northern part of India, unlike India's early episodic encounters with Palestinian and Persian forms of Christianity, which had deep influence in the Southern part of India. The volume also highlights the inner struggle among the followers, resulting even in its division, originating at the Synod of Diamper in 1599, manifesting by and large the Church-state love and hate relationships. In fine, in spite of the drawbacks of putting the Herculean task of two thousand years of history in eight hundred pages or so, this volume gives a rather comprehensive view of Christianity in India, especially to those who are unfamiliar with its life and dynamics in the Indian context. The wide range of photographs (325 of them), especially of the churches, revealing the architectural beauty and multiplicity, along with the ensemble of art and paintings and pilgrimage centers, adds to the enrichment of the volume.
