Wording the World Roma Chatterji,2014-12-01 The essays in this book explore the critical possibilities that have been opened by Veena Das s work Taking off from her writing on pain as a call for acknowledgment several essays explore how social sciences render pain suffering and the claims of the other as part of an ethics of responsibility They search for disciplinary resources to contest the implicit division between those whose pain receives attention and those whose pain is seen as out of sync with the times and hence written out of the historical record Another theme is the co constitution of the event and the everyday especially in the context of violence Das s groundbreaking formulation of the everyday provides a frame for understanding how both violence and healing might grow out of it Drawing on notions of life and voice and the struggle to write one s own narrative the contributors provide rich ethnographies of what it is to inhabit a devastated world Ethics as a form of attentiveness to the other especially in the context of poverty deprivation and the corrosion of everyday life appears in several of the essays They take up the classic themes of kinship and obligation but give them entirely new meaning Finally anthropology s affinities with the literary are reflected in a final set of essays that show how forms of knowing in art and in anthropology are related through work with painters performance artists and writers

American media Gender and the Media offers a critical introduction to the study of gender in the media and an up to date assessment of the key issues and debates Eschewing a straightforwardly positive or negative assessment the book explores the contradictory character of contemporary gender representations where confident expressions of girl power sit alongside reports of epidemic levels of anorexia among young women moral panics about the impact on men of idealized representations of the six pack but near silence about the pervasive re sexualization of women s bodies along with a growing use of irony and playfulness that render critique extremely difficult The book looks in depth at five areas of media talk shows magazines news advertising and contemporary screen and paperback romances to examine how representations of women and men are changing in the twenty first century partly in response to feminist queer and anti racist critique Gender and the Media is also concerned with the theoretical tools available for analysing representations A range of approaches from semiotics to postcolonial theory are discussed and Gill asks how useful notions such as objectification backlash and positive images are for making sense of gender in today s Western media Finally Gender and the Media also raises questions about cultural politics namely what forms of critique and intervention are effective at a moment when ironic quotation marks seem to protect much media content from criticism and when much media content from Sex and the City to revenge adverts can be labelled postfeminist This is a book that will be of particular interest to students and scholars in gender and media studies as well as those in sociology and cultural studies more generally

The SAGE Handbook of Gender and Communication Bonnie J. Dow, Julia T. Wood, 2006-07-19 Publisher Description

Gendered Asylum Sara L McKinnon, 2016-09-01 Women filing gender based asylum claims long faced skepticism and outright rejection within the United States immigration system Despite erratic progress the United States still fails to recognize gender as an established category for experiencing persecution Gender exists in a sort of limbo segregated from other aspects of identity and experience Sara L McKinnon exposes racialized rhetorics of violence in politics and charts the development of gender as a category in American asylum law Starting with the late 1980s when gender based requests first emerged in case law McKinnon analyzes gender and sexuality related cases against the backdrop of national and transnational politics Her focus falls on cases as diverse as Guatemalan and Salvadoran women sexually abused during the Dirty Wars and transgender asylum seekers from around the world fleeing brutally violent situations She reviews the claims evidence testimony and message strategies that unfolded in these legal arguments and decisions and illuminates how legal decisions turned gender into a political construct vulnerable to American national and global interests She also explores myriad related aspects of the process including how subjects are racialized and the effects of that racialization and the consequences of policies that position gender as a signifier for women via normative assumptions about sex and heterosexuality Wide ranging and rich with human detail Gendered Asylum uses feminist immigration and legal studies to engage one of the hotly debated issues of our time      Postfeminist War Mary Douglas Vavrus, 2018-12-10 By examining news and documentary media produced since September 11 2001 Vavrus demonstrates that news narratives that include women use feminism selectively in gender equality narratives She ultimately asserts that such reporting advances post feminism which in tandem with banal militarism subtly pushes military solutions for an array of problems women and girls face
