France and the South Pacific since 1940 Robert Aldrich, 1993-09-01

For some Tahiti New Caledonia and Wallis and Futuna are idyllic tropical islands with a French flavour while for others they represent continuing French colonialism thwarted independence movements and nuclear testing This book looks at the realities of the French territories in Oceania and the former Franco British condominium of the New Hebrides now Vanuatu as well as changing French policy in the region This study is based on published sources as well as archival material and interviews and is a sequel to the highly praised The French Presence in the South Pacific 1842 1940

Afro-European Cartographies Dominic Thomas, 2014-10-21

Literary production is increasingly shaped by globalization and the complex nature of cultural political and social interaction As such longstanding colonial and postcolonial relations between Africa and Europe have yielded a range of challenging questions and new generations of writers with roots in Africa have invariably found themselves navigating new geographic terrains and negotiating racialized identities while simultaneously exploring the potential of literature in addressing the

Education as Politics Kelly M. Duke Bryant, 2015-05-19

Education as Politics argues that colonial schooling remade Senegalese politics during the transition to French rule creating political spaces that were at once African and colonial and ultimately leading to the historic 1914 election of a black African representative from Senegal to the French National Assembly

Advances in African Linguistics Vicki Carstens, Frederick Parkinson, 2000

This volume contains a selection of the papers presented at the 28th Annual Conference on African Linguistics which took place at Cornell University from July 18 22 1997 The editors have sought to include works which make both theoretical and descriptive contributions to this rich area of study The volume is in five sections Section I consists of Kay Williamson s plenary paper Reconstructing Proto Igbo Section II contains papers on aspects of African language syntax Section III is devoted to phonology and morphology of African languages Papers on phonetics make up Section IV and Section V contains sociolinguistic studies

Among the contributors to this volume are E O Aboh who presents evidence from Gungbe for articulated IP and CP structure L Bickmore who proposes an account of how glides affect tonal behavior A Ngunga proposes an account of how Bantu verbal extensions are ordered and D Mengara who argues that French as used in Africa is genuinely an African language
