Crime Pays Mike Welham, 2011-12-22 Crime Pays are the reflections of a Justice of the Peace who having spent 16 years on the front line of criminal justice is not slow in courting controversy Mike Welham's views are critical and damning of government failures As a magistrate he believes that the Human Rights Act a necessary law drawn up to deal with abuses by despot dictators has been hijacked to become a criminals charter The outcome is that crime has evolved to an extent that there is virtually no compassion or support for victims Crime Pays provides a flavour sometimes humorous other times frustrating of cases which Mike has sat on and demonstrates the impact that crime has on us all He shows how the welfare state has failed and produced a broken society and he argues with examples that broken homes unemployment political correctness and uncontrolled mass immigration have all contributed to the increase in crime Mike looks at serious crimes and devotes a section of Crime Pays to the failure of punishment and rehabilitation and a focus on what he terms Mrs Windsor's Hotels the prisons and the convicts who appear to run them while also looking at the emotive and controversial issue of the repeated calls for the reintroduction of capital and corporal punishments There are few books that openly challenge the criminal justice system from an insider's perspective Crime Pays is therefore a unique insight into a Justice of the Peace's view on the real impact crime is having on society

A Brain for Business - A Brain for Life Shane O'Mara, 2017-10-06 Behaviour change is hard but O Mara shows that by adopting strategies that are well founded in the science of brain and behaviour individuals and organisations can adapt to the demands of the modern world The brain matters in business The problem is that our brains have many biases heuristics and predilections that can distort behaviour and decision making The good news is that we know more about how these work than ever before O Mara's starting point is that as our behaviour arises from the structure and function of our brains careful examination of a series of brain based neurocognitive analyses of common aspects of human behaviour relevant to business and management practice reveals lessons that can be used at work He begins by looking at neuroplasticity and how it enables a shift from a restrictive fixed mindset to an enabling growth mindset He shows how this changing mindset approach where the focus is on task and improvements based on effort is scalable within organisations Next as the brain is a living organ like the heart and lungs O Mara shows how to keep it physically in the best possible shape before examining how we exercise control over our behaviour build resilience and create positive brain states He also considers the implications for business of our brains wiring for status and illustrates how research shows that it is possible to de bias assumptions about gender and race and the impact that this has on performance
