that most families contain two parents and at least two children has occurred slowly and has brought with it recognition that children develop in the context of a diverse network of social relationships within which each person may affect every other both directly through their interactions and indirectly i e through A s effect on B who in turn influences C The family is such a social network itself embedded in a broader network of relations with neighbors relatives and social institutions Within the family relationships among siblings have received little attention until fairly recently In this volume the goal is to review the existing empirical and theoretical literature concerning the nature and importance of sibling relationships Sibling
