Reading Eustathios of Thessalonike Filippomaria Pontani,Vasileios Katsaros,Vasileios Sarris,2017-02-20 Despite the relevance of Eustathios to both Classical and

Byzantine studies no monograph and no collective volume in English has yet been devoted to his figure This book attempts to fill in this gap by addressing the various facets of his output above all his commentaries on Homer Dionysius the Periegete Pindar and the Iambic Canon on the Pentecost but also his historiographical work his speeches and his theological production receive due attention The book also tackles several aspects of Eustathios style proverbs allusions etc and the meaning of his work in the context of his historical moment Addressed at specialists but also at graduate students with an interest in the reception of Classical antiquity and in Byzantine civilisation the volume gathers papers by leading scholars from various countries and it opens up new paths of research in several areas of philology and history above all by interweaving and juxtaposing Eustathios dimension as an Homerist and an immensely learned classical scholar with his capacities as an orator a highly praised teacher a rhetorically refined writer of Greek prose an historian of his own turbulent times and an archbishop who had to fulfil his everyday duties Reading the Middle Ages, Volume I Barbara H.

Rosenwein,2018-05-03 The third edition of Reading the Middle Ages retains the strengths of previous editions and adds significant new materials especially on the Byzantine and Islamic worlds and the Mediterranean region This volume spans the period c 300 to c 1150 The New Larned History for Ready Reference, Reading and Research Josephus Nelson Larned,1923 Participatory reading in late-medieval England Heather Blatt,2018-05-11 This electronic version has been made available under a Creative Commons BY NC ND open access license This book traces affinities between digital and medieval media exploring how reading functioned as a nexus for concerns about increasing literacy audiences agency literary culture and media formats from the late fourteenth to the early sixteenth centuries Drawing on a wide range of texts from well known poems of Chaucer and Lydgate to wall texts banqueting poems and devotional works written by and for women Participatory reading argues that making readers work offered writers ways to shape their reputations and the futures of their productions At the same time the interactive reading practices they promoted enabled audiences to contribute to and contest writers burgeoning authority making books and reading work for everyone
