Hybrid and Internationalised Criminal Tribunals Sarah Williams, 2012-04-02 In recent years a number of criminal tribunals have been established to investigate prosecute and try individuals accused of serious violations of international humanitarian law and international human rights law These tribunals have been described as hybrid or internationalised tribunals as their structure and applicable law consist of both international and national elements Six such tribunals are currently in operation the Special Court for Sierra Leone the Extraordinary Chambers in the Courts of Cambodia the International Judges and Prosecutors Programme in Kosovo the War Crimes Chamber for Bosnia and Herzegovina the Iraqi High Tribunal and the Special Tribunal for Lebanon The Special Panels for Serious Crimes in East Timor suspended operation in May 2005 although there continues to be some international involvement in investigation and prosecution of serious crimes Suggestions have also been made that this model of tribunal would be appropriate for the prosecution of atrocities committed in among others Burundi the Sudan the Democratic Republic of Congo Kenya and Liberia as well as for a wider range of international crimes most recently piracy The key aims of this book are to place the model of hybrid and internationalised tribunals in the context of other mechanisms to try international crimes to examine the increasing demand for the establishment of hybrid and internationalised judicial institutions and the factors driving such demand to define the category of hybrid and internationalised tribunals by examining the key features of the existing and proposed hybrid or internationalised tribunals as well as the features of those institutions with international elements that are generally excluded from this category to determine the legal and jurisdictional bases of existing hybrid and internationalised tribunals to analyse how the legal and jurisdictional basis of a tribunal affects other issues such as the applicable law the application of amnesties and immunities and the relationship of the tribunal with the host state third states national courts and other international criminal tribunals The book concentrates on the definitional legal and jurisdictional aspects of hybrid and internationalised criminal tribunals as this has been the subject of some confusion in arguments before the tribunals and in the judgments of the tribunals In its concluding section the book examines the future role of internationalised and hybrid criminal tribunals particularly in light of the establishment of the ICC and the potential use of such tribunals in other contexts It also assesses how hybrid and internationalised tribunals fit into a multi layered framework of international criminal law and transitional justice

Peacebuilding Legacy Sukanya Podder, 2022-08-08 A fundamental challenge plagues the global peacebuilding community How can technocratic approaches to peacebuilding that are rooted in short term project based execution of activities further the longer term transformative outcomes like altering young people's attitudes and beliefs about peace and violence In response to this global challenge in Peacebuilding Legacy Sukanya Podder analyzes the long term effects of peacebuilding programmes involving children and young people Podder unpacks the concept of peacebuilding legacy through the lens of time transformation and intergenerational peace Podder also develops unique qualitative cues for measuring legacy in terms of the institutional normative and organizational logics If norms resonate strongly with the local context they are likely to encourage strong retention and meaningful adoption over time Successful institutionalization of project models through planned handover to successor national organizations or government departments holds the key to stronger local ownership Organizational learning and reflection can support this process through a more strategic approach to programming and through post exit studies Regarding attitude change Podder found that the media and peace education projects that targeted individuals ingrained beliefs and values but overlooked the role of group social norms had only limited persuasive effects To shift the values practices norms and beliefs of the younger generation the mindset of the older generation must also be targeted Changes in the legal political economic and other social institutions are critical for long term and meaningful transformation This requires adopting an ecological model of peace

We the Young Fighters Marc Sommers,2023-10-01 We the Young Fighters is at once a history of a nation the story of a war and the saga of downtrodden young people and three pop culture superstars Reggae idol Bob Marley rap legend Tupac Shakur and the John Rambo movie character all portrayed an upside down world where those in the right are blamed while the powerful attack them Their collective example found fertile ground in the West African nation of Sierra Leone where youth were entrapped inequality was blatant and dissent was impossible When warfare spotlighting diamonds marijuana and extreme terror began in 1991 military leaders exploited the trio's transcendent power over their young fighters and captives Once the war expired youth again turned to Marley for inspiration and Tupac for friendship Thoroughly researched and accessibly written We the Young Fighters probes terror based warfare and how Tupac Rambo and especially Bob Marley wove their way into the fabric of alienation resistance and hope in Sierra Leone The tale of pop culture heroes radicalizing warfare and shaping peacetime underscores the need to engage with alienated youth and reform predatory governments The book ends with a framework for customizing the international response to these twin challenges Chirality at the Nanoscale David B. Amabilino,2009-02-11 The only standard reference in this exciting new field combines the physical chemical and material science perspectives in a synergic way This monograph traces the development of the preparative methods employed to create nanostructures in addition to the experimental techniques used to characterize them as well as some of the surprising physical effects The chapters cover every category of material from organic to coordination compounds metals and composites in zero one two and three dimensions The book also reviews structural chemical optical and other physical properties finishing with a look at the future for chiral nanosystems Research and Development in Intelligent Systems XXIV Max Bramer,Frans Coenen,Miltos Petridis,2007-12-03 An agent in a multi agent system MAS has to generate plans for its individual goal but these plans may conflict with those that are already being scheduled or executed by other agents. It must also be able to complete its planning and resolution of these conflicts within a reasonable time to have an acceptable quality plan. Although we adopt hierarchical planning (HP) for example see 7.12 using the decision theoretic planning (DTP) approach, for efficient planning it is not trivial to apply HPO to MAS. In HP, appropriate abstract plans are selected level by level to maximize the utility U_p where p is the expected plan comprising a sequence of primitive actions. However, in the MAS context, conflicts between agents affect the efficiency and quality of resulting plans. When a conflict is found at lower levels, an additional sophisticated process for avoiding it, conflict resolution, must be invoked and some extra actions such as waiting for synchronization and detouring may have to be added to the plan. The conflict resolution process may become costly or fail. Even a single conflict if it is difficult to resolve will result in a plan with considerably lower quality than it otherwise would have. As a result, in multi-agent systems, the second or third best plans may result in better overall performance.

Post-War Regimes and State Reconstruction in Liberia and Sierra Leone Amadu Sesay, Charles Ukeje, 2009. This original study by some of West Africa's leading scholars interrogates post-war reconstruction processes in the twin West African countries of Liberia and Sierra Leone, focusing on the effects of regime types on the nature, scope, success or failure of their post-war reconstruction efforts.

The Oxford Handbook of Women and the Economy Susan Averett, Laura M. [VNV] Argys, Saul D. Hoffman, 2018. This collection of essays reviews the key trends, surveys the relevant economic theory, and summarizes and critiques the empirical research literature. By providing a view of what we know, what we do not know, and what the critical unanswered questions are, this Handbook provides an examination of the many changes that have occurred in women's economic lives.

Security, Reconstruction, and Reconciliation Muna Ndulo, 2007-01-24. This key text brings together a team of leading contributors to address the complex issues of security, reconciliation, and reconstruction in post-conflict societies. Security, Reconstruction, and Reconciliation is organized into four main sections: the social, political, and economic dimensions of conflict; the impact of conflict on women and children; reconstruction and past human rights violations; disarmament, demobilization, reintegration, post-war reconstruction, and the building of a capable state; and the role of the international community in the peace process. The chapters offer a detailed and succinct exposition of the challenges facing post-conflict societies by articulating the vision of a new society. With a foreword by Francis Deng, the UN Secretary General's Special Representative on Internally Displaced Persons, the authors discuss the issues in the context of possible solutions and lessons learnt in the field. This new book is a valuable resource for researchers, policy makers, and students in the fields of conflict resolution, security studies, law, and development.

The Sierra Leonean Tragedy John-Peter Pham, 2006. The road to the future runs through the past. Drift, decline, and the establishment of a patrimonial state. Diamonds aren't forever; are they? The coming of the terror. Child soldiers, hunters, and mercenaries, the widening conflagration. The perils of peacekeeping and peacemaking. Dealing with the aftermath.

the quest for justice The global dimensions of an African civil conflict Appendix 1 Chronology of select events in the history of Sierra Leone Appendix 2 The Abidjan Peace Agreement 1996 Appendix 3 The Lom Peace Agreement 1999 Appendix 4 Agreement between the United Nations and the government of Sierra Leone on the establishment of a special court for Sierra Leone 2002 Appendix 5 The statute of the special court for Sierra Leone 2002 Appendix 6 The Truth and Reconciliation Commission Act 2000 Amnesty, Human Rights and Political Transitions Louise Mallinder, 2008-09-10

Amnesty laws are political tools used since ancient times by states wishing to quell dissent introduce reforms or achieve peaceful relationships with their enemies In recent years they have become contentious due to a perception that they violate international law particularly the rights of victims and contribute to further violence This view is disputed by political negotiators who often argue that amnesty is a necessary price to pay in order to achieve a stable peaceful and equitable system of government This book aims to investigate whether an amnesty necessarily entails a violation of a state's international obligations or whether an amnesty accompanied by alternative justice mechanisms can in fact contribute positively to both peace and justice This study began by constructing an extensive Amnesty Law Database that contains information on 506 amnesty processes in 130 countries introduced since the Second World War The database and chapter structure were designed to correspond with the key aspects of an amnesty why it was introduced who benefited from its protection which crimes it covered and whether it was conditional In assessing conditional amnesties related transitional justice processes such as selective prosecutions truth commissions community based justice mechanisms lustration and reparations programmes were considered Subsequently the jurisprudence relating to amnesty from national courts international tribunals and courts in third states was addressed The information gathered revealed considerable disparity in state practice relating to amnesties with some aiming to provide victims with a remedy and others seeking to create complete impunity for perpetrators To date few legal trends relating to amnesty laws are emerging although it appears that amnesties offering blanket unconditional immunity for state agents have declined Overall amnesties have increased in popularity since the 1990s and consequently rather than trying to dissuade states from using this tool of transitional justice this book argues that international actors should instead work to limit the more negative forms of amnesty by encouraging states to make them conditional and to introduce complementary programmes to repair the harm and prevent a repetition of the crimes David Dyzenhaus This is one of the best accounts in the truth and reconciliation literature I've read and certainly the best piece of work on amnesty I've seen Diane Orentlicher Ms Mallinder's ambitious project provides the kind of empirical treatment that those of us who have worked on the issue of amnesties in international law have long awaited I have no doubt that her book will be a much valued and widely cited resource
