bureaucracies For this reason they devised elaborate systems of sexual governance such as attending to marriage and the family However they also devoted disproportionate energy to marking and policing the sexual margins In Sex Politics and Empire Richard Phillips investigates controversies surrounding prostitution homosexuality and the age of consent in the British Empire and revolutionises our notions about the importance of sex as a nexus of imperial power relations United Kingdom Publications and Theses on Africa 1967-68 Miriam Alman,2013-07-04 First published in 1973 This is the fifth issue in the series and covers the years 1967 and 1968 Books and pamphlets have been considered as published in the United Kingdom when their publishers are listed in Whitaker s Publishers in the United Kingdom and their addresses February 1971 This includes many foreign publishers mainly American who have branches in the United Kingdom and whose publications are listed in the British National Bibliography Books published abroad and distributed by British publishers are not included

The classic reference work that provides annually updated information on the countries of the world The New Larned History for Ready Reference, Reading and Research Josephus Nelson Larned,1924 Europe in Africa in the Nineteenth Century Elizabeth Wormeley Latimer,1895 Euthanasia of a Mission Jehu Hanciles,2002-05-30 Henry Venn secretary of the London based Church Missionary Society from 1840 to 1872 coined the term euthanasia of a mission to describe the vital process whereby a foreign mission becomes progressively indigenous and independent His vision of church autonomy was first implemented in Sierra Leone and the author examines this experiment in detail to uncover the nature of early efforts at constructing an African Christian identity separate from foreign influence and control Through a detailed analysis of the crises and controversies evoked by African interpretation and appropriation of Venn s vision the author illustrates the complex interaction of foreign missionary action indigenous Christian response and socioeconomic factors in the problematic transition from mission to national church Venn s ideas had far reaching influence on the growth of African nationalism political consciousness and nation building His experiment led to local efforts to merge with the foreign missionary efforts and to an eventual takeover of leadership and mission responsibilities by native Africans Hanciles chronicles the initial missionary efforts in Sierra Leone the growth of the mission the problems that arose and the emergence of Ethiopianism a movement which promoted the idea of African nationalism The book argues that in the West African region at least Venn s experiment precipitated some of the most profound ecclesiastical crises of the 19th century and unleashed powerful forces of change that continue to this day By focusing on the African factor in the intensely problematic transition from mission to national church this work contributes to the ongoing reappraisal of the significance of African Christianity as a major stream of Christian history Romantic Colonization and British Anti-Slavery Deirdre Coleman,2005-01-13

Publisher Description Outsourcing African Labor Jeffrey Gunn,2021-07-19 By the late eighteenth century the ever increasing British need for local labour in West Africa based on malarial climatic and manpower concerns led to a willingness of the British and Kru West African labourers from Liberia to experiment with free wage labour contracts The Kru s familiarity with European trade on the Kru Coast modern Liberia from at least the sixteenth century played a fundamental role in their decision to expand their wage earning opportunities under contract with the British The establishment of Freetown in 1792 enabled the Kru to engage in systematized work for British merchants ship captains and naval officers Kru workers increased their migration to Freetown establishing what appears to be their first permanent labouring community beyond their homeland on the Kru Coast Their community in Freetown known as Krutown provided a readily available labour pool and ensured their regular employment on board British commercial ships and Royal Navy vessels circumnavigating the Atlantic and beyond In the process the Kru established a network of Krutowns and community settlements in many Atlantic ports including Cape Coast Fernando Po Ascension Island Cape of Good Hope and in the British Caribbean in Demerara and Port of Spain Outsourcing African Labour in the Nineteenth Century Kru Migratory Workers in Global Ports Estates and Battlefields structures the fragmented history of Kru workers into a coherent global framework The migration of Kru workers in the Atlantic Indian and Pacific Oceans in commercial and military contexts represents a movement of free wage labour that transformed the Kru Coast into a homeland that nurtured diasporas and staffed a vast network of workplaces As the Kru formed permanent and transient working communities around the Atlantic and in the British Caribbean they underwent several phases of social political and economic innovation which ultimately overcame a decline in employment in their homeland on the Kru Coast by the end of the nineteenth century by increasing employment in their diaspora There were unique features of the Kru migrant labour force that characterized all phases of its expansion The migration was virtually entirely male and at a time when slavery was widespread and the slave trade was subjected to the abolition campaign of the British Navy Kru workers were free with an expertise in manning seaborne craft and portorage Kru carried letters from previous captains as testimonies of their reliability and work ethic or they worked under the supervision of experienced workers who effectively served as references for employment They worked for contractual periods of between six months and five years for which they were paid wages The Kru thereby stand out as an anomaly in the history of Atlantic trade when compared with the much larger diasporas of enslaved Africans Sessional Papers Great Britain.
