Rendering Techniques 2001 S.J. Gortler,K. Myzskowski,2012-12-06 This book contains the proceedings of the lih Eurographics Workshop on Rendering th which took place from the 25 to the 27th of June 2001 in London United Kingdom Over the past 11 years the workshop has become the premier forum dedicated to research in rendering Much of the work in rendering now appearing in other conferences and journals builds on ideas originally presented at the workshop This year we received a total of 74 submissions Each paper was carefully reviewed by two of the 28 international programme committee members as well as external reviewers selected by the co chairs from a pool of 125 individuals In this review process all submissions and reviews were handled electronically with the exception of videos submitted with a few of the papers The overall quality of the submissions was exceptionally high Space and time constraints forced the committee to make some difficult decisions In the end 29 by papers were accepted and they appear here Almost all papers are accompanied color images which appear at the end of the book The papers treat the following varied topics methods for local and global illumination techniques for acquisition and modeling from images image based rendering new image representations hardware assisted methods shadow algorithms visibility perception texturing and filtering Each year in addition to the reviewed contributions the workshop includes invited presentations from internationally recognized experts SIGGRAPH

Torsten Möller,Bernd Hamann,Robert D. Russell,2009-06-12 The goal of visualization is the accurate interactive and intuitive presentation of data Complex numerical simulations high resolution imaging devices and incre ingly common environment embedded sensors are the primary generators of m sive data sets Being able to derive scienti c insight from data increasingly depends on having mathematical and perceptual models to provide the necessary foundation for effective data analysis and comprehension The peer reviewed state of the art research papers included in this book focus on continuous data models such as is common in medical imaging or computational modeling From the viewpoint of a visualization scientist we typically collaborate with an application scientist or engineer who needs to visually explore or study an object which is given by a set of sample points which originally may or may not have been connected by a mesh At some point one generally employs low order piecewise polynomial approximations of an object using one or several dependent functions In order to have an understanding of a higher dimensional geometrical object or function efficient algorithms supporting real time analysis and manipulation zooming are needed Often the data represents 3D or even time varying 3D phenomena such as medical data and the access to different layers slices and structures the underlying topology comprising such data is needed

Rendering Techniques '97 Julie Dorsey, Philipp Slusallek, 2012-12-06 The book contains the proceedings of the 8th Eurographics Rendering Workshop which took place from 16th to 18th June 1997 in Saint Etienne France After a series of seven successful events the workshop is now well established as the major international forum in the field of rendering and illumination techniques It brought together the experts of this field Their recent research results are compiled in this proceedings together with many color images that demonstrate new ideas and techniques This year we received a total of 63 submissions of which 28 were selected for the workshop after a period of careful reviewing and evaluation by the 27 members of the international program committee The quality of the submissions was again very high and unfortunately many interesting papers had to be rejected In addition to regular papers the program also contains two invited lectures by Shenchang Eric Chen Live Picture and Per Christensen Mental Images The papers in this proceedings contain new research results in the areas of Finite Element and Monte Carlo illumination algorithms image based rendering outdoor and natural illumination error metrics perception texture and color handling data acquisition for rendering and efficient use of hardware While some contributions report results from more efficient or elegant algorithms others pursue new and experimental approaches to find better solutions to the open problems in rendering Computer Graphics Robert Cook, 1995
