Commissioner for England and Wales on criminal law has given him unique insight into these questions and the debates surrounding them Here he analyses the recent political and legal reform movements offering a political history of homicide law reform from the 19th century to the modern era Using homicide as a starting point Horder raises deeper questions of who is and should be responsible for making and changing the law What role should there be for expert bodies judges and politicians What role should there be for the general public These questions invoke strong emotional responses Horder argues that comprehensive research into and a degree of difference to public opinion on the scope of homicide is essential to the reform process It is essential principally as a means of conferring true legitimacy on homicide reform in a democracy Elite or expert opinion alone will never authentically secure such legitimacy Offering an insider's view into the processes of achieving law reform Horder expresses criticism of a system that excludes the vast majority of people from consultation on reform of the laws that govern them

The Whole Works of Robert Leighton Robert Leighton, George Jerment, 1820 The Crucifying of the World, by the Cross of Christ, Etc Richard Baxter, 1658 The Philosophical Works of John Locke John Locke, James Augustus St. John, 1903 Sculpture, weaving, and the body in Plato Zacharoula Petraki, 2023-08-21 Plato's Timaeus is unique in Greek Antiquity for presenting the creation of the world as the work of a divine demiurge The maker bestows order on sensible things and imitates the world of the intellect by using the Forms as models While the creation myth of the Timaeus seems unparalleled this book argues that it is not the first of Plato's dialogues to use artistic language to articulate the relationship of the objects of the material world to the world of the intellect The book adopts an interpretative angle that is sensitive to the visual and art historical developments of Classical Athens to argue that sculpture revolutionized by the advent of the lost wax technique for the production of bronze statues lies at the heart of Plato's conception of the relation of the human soul and body to the Forms It shows that despite the severe criticism of mimesis in the Republic Plato's use of artistic language rests on a positive model of mimesis Plato was in fact engaged in a constructive dialogue with material culture and he found in the technical processes and the cultural semantics of sculpture and of the art of weaving a valuable way to conceptualise and communicate complex ideas about humans' relation to the Forms
