Sanders,2018-05-14 An immensely valuable and substantial addition to 10th Mountain literature and to the history of skiing in the United States International Ski History Association The Boys of Winter tells the true story of three young American ski champions and their brutal heroic and fateful transformation from athletes to infantrymen with the 10th Mountain Division Charles J Sanders's fast paced narrative draws on dozens of interviews and extensive research to trace these boys' lives from childhood to championships and from training at Mount Rainier and in the Colorado Rockies to battles against the Nazis. The Boys of Winter perfectly captures the spirit of the men who made the division what it was as well as the spirit of those troopers who survived to help shape the postwar world. John Imbrie, 10th Mountain Division historian and coeditor of Good Times and Bad Times, focusing on the lives and the deaths of three young men from vastly different backgrounds. Sanders traces the history of the U.S. Army's Tenth Mountain Division from its inception, training in Washington and Colorado, first blood in the Aleutians, and finally to deployment to Italy in 1945. The Boys of Winter is a sensitive tribute. Western Historical Quarterly. Sanders distills the complicated and years-long saga of the creation of America's ski troops into an intensely personal story. And doesn't shy away from a question that haunts the survivors of the division and the families of those who never returned. The Durango Herald Geographic

Names of the Antarctic United States Board on Geographic Names, United States. Defense Mapping Agency. Geographic Names Data Base Division, National Science Foundation (U.S.), 1981. List of names approved by the United States Board on Geographic Names and the Secretary of the Interior for features in Antarctica and the area extending northward to the Antarctic convergence. Each name is listed with its geographic coordinates, a description of the feature, and facts concerning the discovery, mapping, and naming of the feature. Foreword includes policy on Antarctic names, the nature of the problem, and how it was resolved. Library Journal. Melvil Dewey, Richard Rogers Bowker, L. Pylodet, Charles Ammi Cutter, Bertine Emma Weston, Karl Brown, Helen E. Wessells, 1926. Includes beginning Sept 15, 1954, and on the 15th of each month Sept-May a special section. School library journal. ISSN 0000-0035. Called Junior Libraries 1954-May 1961. Also issued separately. The Ninth Circle John C. Behrendt, 2005. When John Behrendt went to Antarctica in the early 1960s as part of the United States Antarctic Research Program (USARP), the Cold War was at its height and research on the ice sheet was risky. The Antarctic air squadron VX-6 had an accident rate eight times that of U.S. Naval aviation in other parts of the world, and graduate students and young scientists like Behrendt received hazard pay for their work. In John Behrendt's memoir, we relive that era of scientific exploration. He describes two seasons on the ice in Operation Deep Freeze, leading field parties conducting scientific research and struggling against the elements. Behrendt led an over-snow geophysical, glaciological, geological, geographic exploration party to the southern Antarctic Peninsula and to a mountain range that was eventually named for him in recognition of his work. Behrendt pioneered in aerogeophysical surveys over the Transantarctic Mountains and the West Antarctic Ice Sheet. In his reflections of the period from 1960 to 1962, he notes that time was closer to the eras of Ernest Shackleton's Endurance voyage (1914) and Robert F. Scott's and Roald Amundsen's treks to the South Pole (1911-12) than to the present. Readers who are fascinated with the twentieth-century frontier of our shrinking planet will relish his adventurous account. Catalog of Copyright Entries. Third Series. Library of Congress. Copyright Office, 1967. Includes Part 1, Number 2. Books and Pamphlets Including Serials and Contributions to Periodicals. July-December. The Publishers Weekly, 1928.
