Lucy In Mourning:

Lucy in Mourning Brad Field, 2005-08 On her honeymoon in Brussels in 1958 Lucy's husband is killed by a hit and run driver. When her husband's family arrives, Lucy is the only one who speaks enough French to deal with the police, the hotels, the funeral arrangements. At a late moment in the airport, she notes a clue that her husband's death was no accident but murder. She lets the family get on the plane and stays to investigate. Amid some wry comedy, she deals with the first suspects who find her a fascinating beauty for her tiresome irrelevance. And they all have alibis. She finds from Brad Field's earlier novel Lucy that the only man in Europe she can trust is old Hertzog, a courier for a Swiss bank, to help her with the German and the Italian. Lucy slowly reconstructs herself. A bereaved bride in mourning clothes and veil becomes a calculating executive of action.

Mourning Companion Animals Susan Dowd Stone, 2024-04-11 Mourning Companion Animals is a guidebook for mental health clinicians searching for effective compassionate resources to guide their clients through the often devastating experience of animal companion loss. The included author-generated inventory of the animal companion bereavement questionnaire provides further assistance in clinician exploration of each client's unique bond with their lost companion. The book's content is the result of more than twenty-five years of extensive work within the human-animal bond clinical training in the referenced therapies and application of major psychodynamic theories.

Adult Attachment and Couple Psychotherapy Christopher Clulow, 2012-12-06 Attachment theory has triggered an explosion of research into family relationships and has provided a conceptual basis for the work of practitioners. Adult Attachment and Couple Psychotherapy brings research and practice perspectives to bear on the adult couple relationship and provides a framework for assessing and working with secure and insecure partnerships. Divided into three parts, the book looks at what is meant by secure and insecure attachment in the couple, describes how theory and research have been applied to practice, and how practice has added to the understanding of the complex problems that couples bring to therapy. It examines the significance of training and the organisation of work for effective practice with couples. Using vivid illustrations from clinical and community work, Adult Attachment and Couple Psychotherapy offers stimulating reading for all those involved in this field who wish to reassess their models of practice.

An Ethics of Becoming Sonjeong Cho, 2014-02-04 In attempting to conceptualize feminine subjectivity beyond the familiar paradigm of dualism and within the parameters of ethics, this study examines the political and intellectual identity of contemporary poststructuralist feminism and its profound resonance with the nineteenth-century British female Bildungsroman. Rooted in fundamental questions about the nexus between feminist theory and feminist literature, genre and gender, subjectivity and ethics, sexuality and textuality, and mimesis and politics, this book aims specifically to configure feminine subjectivity in the horizon of becoming, always incomplete, non identarian performative unknowable and thus paradoxically unbecoming as it disseminates in a modality of alterity in novels by Jane Austen Charlotte Bront and George Eliot The close reading of major novels by these women writers illuminates the artistic density and ethical depth of their writing by demonstrating that these women writers rewrite the genealogy of subjectivity and invent their own Bildungsroman as a rich narrative vehicle for the feminine Music and Youth ,1928
