Magic Barrel:

The Magic Barrel Bernard Malamud, 1958 The Magic Barrel Bernard Malamud, 1980 The Schlemiel as Metaphor Sanford Pinsker, 1991 The certainty that deep down we are all schlemiels is perhaps what makes America love an inept ball team or a Woody Allen who unburdens his neurotic heart in public In this unique revised history of the schlemiel Sanford Pinsker uses psychological linguistic and anecdotal approaches as well as his considerable skills as a spritely storyteller to trace the schlemiel from his beginnings in the Old Testament through his appearance in the nineteenth century literature of Mendele Mocher Seforim and Sholom Aleichem to his final development as the beautiful loser in the works of Isaac Bashevis Singer Bernard Malamud Saul Bellow Philip Roth and Woody Allen Horatio Alger might have once been a good emblem of the American sensibility but today Woody Allen's anxious bespectacled puny face seems closer and truer to our national experience His urban end of the century anxieties mirror albeit in exaggeration our own This expanded study of the schlemiel is especially relevant now when scholarship of Yiddish and American Jewish literature is on the increase By sketching the family tree of that durable anti hero the schlemiel Pinsker proves that Jewish humor is built upon the very foundations of the Jewish experience Pinsker shows the evolution of the schlemiel from the comic butt of Yiddish jokes to a literary figure that speaks to the heart of our modern problems and he demonstrates the way that Yiddish humor provides a sorely needed correction a way of pulling down the vanities we all live by

Interpretation and Genre Thomas Kent, 1986 Kent proposes a general theory of genre classification and applies this genetic model to American fiction written during the last half of the nineteenth century Combining theory and application Kent attempts to demonstrate that what we say about texts is related directly to our generic perception of them

Ethnic Identities in Bernard Malamud's Fiction Martín Urdiales Shaw, 2000 The present study has been divided into five general chapters each of which is centred around a basic issue related to ethnic identities This central issue may be more or less specific largely depending on its nature and on the corpus it comprises for example chapter two which bears the general title the old country and the New World is naturally the most extensive because of the great scope of this theme and the number of works it involves two novels and a considerable number of stories including the very long Man in the Drawer By contrast the last chapter entitled Beyond Race into Myth Seeking the Liberation of the Self is logically the shortest because its focus is restricted to a particular function of ethnic identities metaphorically speaking in Malamud's fantastic works the novel God's Grace and one short story Similar proportions between length complexity of theme and corpus treated are maintained in the three central chapters which focus on ethnic aspects which are neither as general as chapter two nor as specific as chapter six

Conversations with Bernard Malamud Bernard Malamud, 1991

During his teaching career Bernard Malamud taught both creative writing and literature courses and indicated that he almost never taught his own works since an author cannot dictate the total meaning of his work to a classroom He was consistently reluctant in interviews as well to explain his fiction He valued imaginative interpretations whether I agree with them or not He rejected the notion that there was a correct interpretation of his work

Lionel Trilling Daniel T. O'Hara, 1988 Daniel T O'Hara reads the career of Trilling as a single completely comprehensive work of self-fashioning The intention of such work says O'Hara from the beginning and throughout Trilling's intellectual life was to create a self that when confronted with the great achievement of another mind was capable of imaginative sympathy and not solely resentful critique In order to reach that goal however Trilling had to adopt one of the conventional masks available to the intellectual in modern culture and adapt it to his needs and to those of his liberal time

Philosophy and Literature in Times of Crisis Michael Mack, 2014-02-27 Highlighting literature and philosophy's potential impact on economics health care bioethics public policy and theology this book analyses the heuristic value of fiction It alerts us to how we risk succumbing to the deceptions of fiction in our everyday lives because fictional representations constantly feign to be of the real and claim a reality of their own Philosophy and literature disclose how the substantive sphere of social economic and medical practice is sometimes driven and shaped by the affect-ridden and subjective Analysing a wide range of literature from Augustine Shakespeare Spinoza and Deleuze to

Kafka Sylvia Plath Philip Roth W G Sebald and Jonathan Littell Michael Mack rethinks ethical attitudes towards the long or eternal life In so doing he shows how philosophy and literature turn representation against itself to expose the hollowness of theologically grand concepts that govern our secular approach towards ethics economics and medicine Philosophy and literature help us resist our current infatuation with numbers and the numerical and contribute towards a future politics that is at once singular and diverse
