

Specialised Nutrition Europe¹ (SNE) Position on the proposed EU Regulation on Packaging and Packaging Waste

In a nutshell

Specialised Nutrition Europe (SNE) supports FoodDrinkEurope's position 'A circular economy for food and drink packaging'² and welcomes the objectives of the Commission's proposal³. However, some important adaptations are required to make the proposal's environmental objectives compatible with the specific use and the especially strict safety requirements for foods for vulnerable groups. Unfortunately, current recycling technologies do not yet enable an adequate supply of high grade recycled plastics and they are not specifically designed to reach consistency of quality among batches for the packaging of foods intended for infants and young children, as well as foods for special medical purposes (FSMP)⁴. SNE therefore recommends treating foods for vulnerable groups the same way as medicines and medical devices – which are exempted from the proposal's requirements for recyclability (until 2034 – Art. 6) and for minimum recycled content (indefinitely, Art. 7).

Any foods intended for infants and young children and foods for special medical purposes (FSMP) should also be exempted from the proposal's provisions on re-use and refill (Art. 26) and on deposit and return schemes (Art. 44). Furthermore, especially for Foods for Special Medical Purposes (FSMP), the use of digital labels (e. g. QR code) should be allowed (Art. 11). SNE also recommends promoting the future availability of recycled plastics suitable for foods intended for infants and young children and foods for special medical purposes.

- Recyclable packaging (Art. 6)

In order to protect the high quality and safety of foods for vulnerable groups, a lot of effort is being put into preventing the migration of substances into the food. This could be done by applying functional barriers in multi-layer materials, as envisaged by the regulation on plastic materials intended to come into contact with food⁵. While these multi-layer systems help to protect the product and enhance its shelf life (thereby reducing food waste), they might have detrimental effects on the recyclability of the packaging material. To simultaneously enhance recyclability and integrate recycled content, more time is needed to find technical solutions that do not compromise the quality and safety of the products for vulnerable groups.

Europe and Central Asia - Regional Overview of Food Security and Nutrition 2022 Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, International Fund for Agricultural Development, United Nations Children's Fund, United Nations, United Nations Development Programme, World Food Programme, World Health Organization, World Meteorological Organization, 2023-03-14 This report presents the latest updates related to food security and nutrition in Europe and Central Asia including estimates on the cost and affordability of healthy diets It also explores how governments are supporting the food and agriculture sector and how to repurpose policies and incentives to make healthy diets more affordable and agrifood systems more environmentally sustainable The new estimates confirm that the prevalence of hunger at chronic or severe levels is relatively low in the ECA region through the prevalence of food insecurity at moderate or severe levels can be quite high The region is seeing alarmingly high and rising rates of overweight and obesity The COVID 19 pandemic has added 25 5 million people in the region to the ranks of the moderately or severely food insecure leaving them without access to safe nutritious and adequate food The war in Ukraine has made the situation worse Almost all ECA subregions are experiencing increased costs and reduced affordability of healthy diets because of higher food prices and lower incomes This report contains an in depth analysis of the repurposing of food and agricultural policies to ensure the food systems transformation is better suited to addressing the triple challenge of achieving food security and good nutrition for better health providing livelihoods to farmers and others connected to the sector and reducing the nature and climate footprint of the sector This report also reviews complementing policies within and outside of agrifood systems to assess whether repurposing efforts are impactful in the ECA region

Food and Health in Europe ,2002 This booklet summarises a larger forthcoming publication containing an indepth analysis of nutritional health and the concerns regarding the supply and security of food in Europe This summary booklet aimed primarily at policy makers considers the key public health issues of concern and discusses policy options available

European Nutrition and Health Report 2004 I. Elmadfa, Elisabeth Weichselbaum, 2005-01-01 The European Nutrition and Health Report is the first comprehensive assessment of the present status of nutrition and health in Europe and of the available resources and requirements for compatible and representative data from different countries 13 EU member states and Norway have participated in this project pursuing three main goals Compilation of available nutrient intake and health data Identification of major nutrition and health problems Identification of problems concerning the methods and compatibility of data collection The main topics include food supply and availability energy and nutrient intake in different age groups health indicators and status obesity physical activity and smoking The Appendix offers a detailed publication of national reports and single projects This book provides a solid basis for the planning of future projects in nutrition and health and should be of great interest to all professionals in the fields of nutrition preventive medicine and public health as well as to health policy makers

Population and Nutrition Massimo Livi Bacci, 1990 In this essay the mechanisms of biological social and cultural nature linking subsistence mortality and population are discussed

EU Food Law Handbook Bernd Van der Meulen, Bart Wernaart, 2020-09-01 The twenty first century has witnessed a fundamental reform of food law in the European Union to the point where modern EU food law has now come of age This EU Food Law Handbook presents the most significant elements of these legal developments with contributions from a highly qualified international team of academics and practitioners Their analysis is based on a shared vision of the structure and content of EU food law The book takes the perspective of food law embedded within general EU law It highlights the consequences of this combination and provides insights into both substantive and procedural food law Taking the General Food Law as a focal point this handbook systematically analyses and explains the institutional substantive and procedural elements of EU food law Principles are discussed as well as specific rules addressing food as a product the processes related to food and communication about food to consumers through labelling These rules define requirements on subjects like market authorisation for food additives novel foods and genetically modified foods chemical and biological contaminants in food food hygiene tracking tracing withdrawal recall food labelling and claims The powers of public authorities to enforce food law and to deal with incidents are outlined Attention is given to the international context WTO Codex Alimentarius as well as to private standards In addition to the systematic analysis the book includes selected topics such as nutrition and health policy special foods food import requirements food contact materials intellectual property private food law and animal feed In this new edition existing chapters have been updated to take account of many important developments in legislation and case law Several new topics have been added to the analysis such as the right to food organics and food fraud The EU Food Law Handbook is produced in co operation with the European Institute for Food Law It is relevant for practitioners and academics both with and without a background in law It is ideal for education purposes European Nutrition and Health Report 2009 I. Elmadfa, 2009-01-01 The main objective of the report at hand was to gather available and authorized data both published and unpublished on the nutrition and health situation in the countries of the European Union EU Whereas the first report released in 2004 included 13 EU member states and Norway the 2009 edition covers 24 EU member states and Norway For the collection of data the researchers concentrated on the following points The description of trends in food supply in the EU focusing also on the different regions the comparison of average daily individual food availability at household level the evaluation of individual food consumption and energy and nutrient intake the description of data on diet related health indicators and status and the analysis of food and nutrition policies in countries of the European Union Throughout the impact of age and gender is emphasized and special attention is being paid to the different regions of the EU The broad scope of the subjects covered and the improved quality of the data collected make the European Nutrition and Health Report 2009 an accurate documentation and sound source of information Providing a basis for the work of the institutions responsible for health and nutrition policy it is especially suitable for use in international comparisons of the nutrition and health situation Nutrition in Europe Leif Hambraeus, 1981-06-01 Europe and Central Asia - Regional Overview of Food Security and Nutrition 2023 Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2023-12-12 The Regional Overview of Food Security and Nutrition in Europe and Central Asia for 2023 Statistics and Trends provides a comprehensive analysis of Sustainable Development Goal 2 focusing specifically on Target 2.1 ending hunger and ensuring universal access to food and Target 2.2 eradicating all forms of malnutrition Additionally the report evaluates progress concerning three global nutrition targets adult obesity exclusive breastfeeding and low birthweight as endorsed by the 2012 World Health Assembly It also offers an updated analysis of the cost and affordability of a healthy diet within the Europe and Central Asia region Recent estimates affirm that hunger prevalence remains relatively low in the ECA region Food insecurity at moderate or severe levels is notably lower compared to global estimates However food insecurity levels remain significantly higher than those recorded before the COVID 19 pandemic Although the ECA region has made significant strides in reducing undernutrition overall some countries still exhibit relatively high rates of stunting over 10 percent and wasting over 3 percent Overall the region is not on track in addressing childhood overweight adult obesity anemia among women aged 15 to 49 and exclusive breastfeeding Healthy diets play a crucial role in safeguarding against the impacts of malnutrition fostering improved health outcomes Notably in the past year the Western Balkans experienced the highest cost for a healthy diet within the region surpassing both the ECA and global averages Overall there has been an increase in the number of individuals able to afford a healthy diet over the past year while the percentage unable to afford it remains significantly lower than the global estimate Food Policy Trends in Europe: Nutrition, Technology, Analysis and Safety Hendrik
